Strike Conviction At Goldbridge Upheld

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice A. I. Fisher in the B.C. Supreme Court today upheld the conviction by Stipendiary Magistrate C. J. Sumner of Goldbridge, B.C., of C. A. Haddrell on a charge of calling a strike at Pioneer Mines, B.C., before arbitration. He also refused to review by writ of certiorari the convictions of five other miners.

E. A. Lucas, counsel for Haddrell, contended the magistrate had no jurisdiction because the charge had lapsed by reason of adjournments of the case.

Mr. Justice Fisher said he found the accused was legally before the court and that the magistrate had jurisdiction and that the convictions could not be set aside for want of jurisdiction.

Proposal to Have Parking Meters Here Defeated

After hearing a strong protest from the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and the Victoria Automobile Club the municipal committee of the Legislature this morning killed for this year the City Council's request for power to install parking meters on the streets of this city.

The request was for a change in the Municipal Act, supported by the Union of Municipalities, but Victoria was the instigator of the proposal. Vancouver secured the power in its private charter and Victoria asked the same authority. The committee agreed that since the municipal union had not heard the counter arguments advanced by the Victoria delegation the whole matter should be referred back to the Union.

George E. MacDonald, chairman of the retail merchants' section of the chamber, read a 1,500-word brief against the meters, submitting 26 reasons why the chamber did not want them.

He said the meters were nothing more than a nuisance tax, would not relieve the parking congestion, and for Victoria, priding itself on being a tourist city, would be particularly bad.

More traffic officers would be needed to look after the meters since they would not control overparking any more efficiently than it is now done by the officers and additional men would be needed to collect the fees.

The meters would not increase parking space, but would actually reduce it, since larger individual parking spaces would be needed. The parking fee would increase prices for those who wanted to make small purchases by stopping only a few minutes.

He said the meters cost only $6 to $8 to manufacture, but might be sold to the city anywhere from $25 to $60.

He cited 19 cities that had tried meters and taken them out and 101 in which attempts to install meters had been defeated.

Meters, he argued, would tend to make motorists think they had a proprietary interest in the streets and would involve the city in liability for damage to a parked car. They would not solve double-parking or increase the turnover of parking space.

Mayor Andrew McGavin insisted that the time for the chamber to put forth its arguments was when the City Council attempted to put in meters. At present the city only wanted permissive legislation.

However, the mayor read a letter from Chief of Police McLellan saying he had studied the meter system for two years and was now asking for a tryout in Victoria.

Forrest L. Shaw, city solicitor, said the question as to advisability of meters was one for the council alone to decide. He pointed out that not only Victoria, but the whole Union of B.C. Municipalities were asking for the power.

He submitted a list of 150 cities that have meters and mentioned several that had tried them, rejected them, and then reinstalled them.

Duncan MacBride, Chamber of Commerce president, said his organization was 100 per cent opposed to the plan, as well as several merchants who had signed a petition against it. A. D. King declared the Victoria Automobile Club fully endorsed the chamber's stand.

P. B. Scurrah, speaking as an individual merchant, said he found businessmen on his block solidly opposed, as well as his customers who were motorists.

Frank Leroy supported the meters as a method that could be at least tried to deal with the parking problem.

R.A.F. BAGS NAZI PLANE OFF ENGLAND

The plane disappeared flying northward. Eye-witnesses reported they could clearly see German insignia on the lower side of the wings.

Air-raid warnings were sounded in the Orkney Islands, off the northern tip of Scotland, and all-clear signal came after 40 minutes. The Scapa Flow naval base is in the Orkneys. Three planes were reported over the islands, but no bombs were dropped.

Jury to Hear Shooting Case

Before Judge H. H. Shandley, in the County Court this morning, Fletcher, through his counsel, H. W. Davey, elected for jury trial. W. B. Colvin appeared for the crown.

Fletcher was committed for trial after a hearing before Magistrate Hall in Saanich Police Court on a charge that he did, on October 31, with intent to do grievous bodily harm, unlawfully wound Humphries.

The charge followed the shooting of Humphries with a .22-calibre rifle on Hallowe'en night when he accompanied a large gang of youths who threw rotten eggs and firecrackers to annoy Fletcher.

Nazis Hold Man For Munich Blast; Seize 2 Britons

BERLIN (AP) — Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German police, announced tonight arrest of a man named Georg Elser who was charged with the November 8 Munich beer parlor bombing, and also the arrest of two agents of the British intelligence service.

(Official announcements, however, did not connect the arrest of Elser and the British agents.)

Himmler, director of the Gestapo (secret state police) claimed, however, that Otto Strasser, old-time opponent of Hitler, had organized the bombing plot and the British Intelligence Service had supplied the money.

In addition a number of Elser's accomplices were declared under arrest.

A communique said The Hague, capital of the Netherlands, was headquarters of the British Intelligence Service for western Europe, and the two agents were arrested as they were attempting to cross the German border into the Netherlands on November 9, one day after the Munich bombing.

The communique accused the British headquarters at The Hague with attempting "to organize plots" in Germany.

CONFESSION REPORTED

Himmler said Elser, a Munich man, 36 years of age, had confessed after "steadfast denials."

Eight persons died as a result of the explosion 11 minutes after Hitler had left the hall where Nazi party leaders gathered to observe the anniversary of the abortive 1923 beer cellar putsch.

Among other suspects, Elser was seized as he attempted to flee "illegally" into Switzerland, November 11, Himmler's announcement said. The borders were closed temporarily after the attempt on Hitler's life.

Himmler's summary said that during a week's long tinkering "in a manner unique in criminal history," Elser built a six-day time bomb into a pillar of the Buergerbrau cellar.

After laying plans in September and October, 1938, Elser began work in August, 1939, the summary said. Seven days before the Nazi anniversary meeting in the beer cellar, the explosive charge was brought into the building.

SUCCESS AT LAST

After two failures on November 2 and November 3, he succeeded in building his detonator into the bursting chamber of a bomb in the night from November 4 to November 5, the Gestapo chieftain said.

Then, he added, Elser departed for Switzerland to join his employer, but instead returned to Munich November 7 in order to convince himself everything was in working order, that "the clock was ticking," and to deaden the sound.

On the morning of the explosion, Himmler said, the plotter departed by way of Ulm for the border, where he was arrested that night.

TAKEN AT VENLOO

The official announcement said the capture of the two Britons was made at Venloo, where Netherlands dispatches on that night reported a shooting incident and the capturing of occupants of a Netherlands automobile who were taken into Germany.

The men were identified in the announcement as "Best" and as "Captain Stevens." The statement said they were overpowered and taken prisoner by state police.

It added "contradictory claims whether they were captured while still in Holland or when in Germany are at present being examined."

SAY THEY WERE DECEIVED

The official statement said officers in the security service of the Elite Guard were assigned to establish contact with central headquarters of the British Intelligence Service at The Hague.

"In the belief they actually were dealing with revolutionary German officers, representatives of the British Intelligence Service revealed their aims and plans.

"In order to be able to keep continual connection with these supposed German officers they delivered certain English radio sending and receiving apparatus through which the German secret state police had maintained connection with the British government until today."

Wider Policies Follow Election

BUCTOUCHE, N.B. (CP) — Premier A. A. Dysart issued the following statement in connection with the New Brunswick election, which created a new Legislature of 27 Liberals and 21 Conservatives:

"The vote cast is a vote of confidence in the government and, although the majority has been reduced, that fact will not hamper the government from going forward with its progressive policies.

"It is a matter of personal regret to me that three members of the executive council failed to win re-election. That, however, is the fortune of war.

"I thank the people of New Brunswick for their support."

Standing of the parties in the Legislature recently dissolved was 39 Liberals, five Conservatives and 4 vacancies.

British Navy Retaliates For Mine Outrages

By J. F. SANDERSON

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain will retaliate against German "violations of international law" by seizing German exports on the high seas, Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today.

The Prime Minister's statement came simultaneously with reports that a vessel believed to be the Japanese liner Terukuni Mau had sunk off the east coast of England apparently after striking a mine.

The 11,930-ton Japanese vessel was the 14th vessel to go down since the week-end, either by German U-boat action or by striking uncharted mines which Britain charges the Germans placed in shipping lanes in contravention of international law.

Sinking of the Japanese liner brought today's losses to four. Previously the 276-ton British trawler Thomas Hankins was sunk by a submarine while the British minesweeper Mastiff, 490 tons, and the British steam trawler Sea Sweper, 239 tons, had sunk after they struck mines near British shores.

SEEN FROM LAND

The sinking Japanese liner, which could be seen from the shore, carried a crew of 180 and 26 passengers, one of them British. A lifeboat and other craft went to the rescue, and some survivors were brought to shore.

The blast that destroyed the vessel sent great volumes of water high in the air.

Offices of the ship's owners said they had received no word of casualties and believed no lives were lost.

The Terukuni Maru was bound from Japan to London.

One man was killed and five others were missing in the sinking of the Mastiff. The trawler exploded against one of the mines it was seeking to clear from the seas. The crew of the other minesweeper lost during the day was landed at a northern Ireland port.

The 5,055-ton German freighter Reingold, captured by British war vessels, was brought into a Scottish port. She was carrying a wheat cargo.

COMPLETE TRADE BLOCKADE

Mr. Chamberlain told Commons that as a reprisal for Germany's indiscriminate mine-laying, Britain will tighten her economic blockade on the Reich by intercepting German exports in the same way the Royal Navy, together with French naval units, has cut off German imports.

This will mean a concentration on neutral shipping because Germany has practically no ships at sea.

Mr. Chamberlain made his statement in reply to private notice of a question by Major Clement Attlee, Labor opposition leader, as to whether the government proposed to take any action as a result of the laying of mines.

"The House will be aware that during the last three days upwards of 10 ships—six of which were neutrals—were sunk, with a very serious loss of life, by German mines," said Mr. Chamberlain.

NAZI'S BREAK AGREEMENT

"The Hague Convention, to which Germany is a party and which she announced her intention of observing as recently as September 17 last, provides that when anchored mines are used every possible precaution must be taken for the security of peaceful navigation.

"This is the essence of the convention as a mine cannot discriminate between a warship and a merchant ship, or between belligerent and neutral.

"The convention particularly requires that the danger zone must be notified as soon as military exigencies permit.

"If unanchored mines are used, they must become harmless one hour at the most after those who laid them have lost control of them.

"None of these provisions have been observed by the German government in laying the mines which have occasioned the losses I have mentioned and this fresh outrage is the culmination of a series of violations of agreements to which Germany has set her hand.

"I need only recall the sinking of the Athenia, with a loss of 112 lives, and the subsequent destruction of British, Allied and neutral vessels by mine, torpedo or gunfire.

SHIPS NOT ARMED

"These attacks have been made often without warning and to an increasing extent with complete disregard of the rules laid down in the submarine protocol to which Germany subscribes, or of the most elementary dictates of humanity.

"His Majesty's government are not prepared to allow these methods of conducting warfare to continue without retaliation.

"I may remind the House that in the last war, as a measure of justified reprisals for submarine attacks on merchant ships, the exports of German origin or ownership were made subject to seizure on the high seas.

"Many violations of international law and the ruthless brutality of German methods have decided us to follow a similar course now, and an order-in-council will shortly be issued giving effect to this decision."

Cheers greeted the statement.

Can Shrinkage in Estates be avoided?

An estate is reduced in value every time it changes ownership because succession duties have to be paid on each occasion.

If $75,000 is left to a wife, succession duties will be imposed. If, at her death, the children receive her estate, succession duties will have to be paid again.

On the other hand—if the wife receives the income for life and the principal is held in trust for the children, there will be only one change of ownership—and succession duties will be collected once instead of twice. The saving in duty, under this arrangement, is more than $2,000.

The Trust Plan we recommend, will be explained upon request, without obligation.

Nazis Say All Quiet at Prague

PRAGUE (AP)—Martial law in Prague and four other Bohemian districts ended today.

German officials announced "there is complete quiet in Prague. No incidents have been noted, and the Czech population is peacefully pursuing work."

Officials discouraged relatives seeking to intervene on behalf of the 1,200 students who have been sent to concentration camps as a result of the disorders which led to the execution of 12 Czechs. Such intervention, an official announcement said, would prove "purposeless."

A survey disclosed eight Czech universities and academies were closed on order of German authorities. Dormitories and offices of the closed Prague schools remained occupied by blackshirted members of the SS (Elite Guard).

The London Daily Herald in a dispatch from its Zagreb correspondent reported 18 university students were executed summarily last week and that subsequent rioting was put down by use of artillery in Prague's streets.

The correspondent gave an unnamed foreign commercial attache as the source of his information, and told this story:

Resentment in Prague over the killing of a Czech student during Independence Day celebrations last week broke out into real fighting when university students pelted with books a Nazi professor who "insulted the Czech nation."

German agents surrounded the institution and were met with a volley of tiles, laboratory equipment and busts of Hitler.

"It was magnificent but crazy," the attache was quoted as saying. "They tumbled down desks and cupboards onto their attackers and the machine guns of the armored cars spurted into action.

"It took the steel-helmeted Nazis two hours to take the building. The students fought from floor to floor. About 300 were shot and injured before they were overpowered and the (Czech) flag was torn down.

'Eighteen more students were identified by the Nazi professors as ringleaders and were shot on the spot."

Demonstrations followed all over the city. Five Czech police chiefs who refused to act against their people were shot. The next day artillery was used to put down disorders in the streets.

Kuhn Says He Had Right to Bund Funds

NEW YORK (AP) — Fritz Kuhn, on trial for the theft of money from his German-American Bund, testified today that under the "leadership principle" of that organization he believed he had the power to use its funds to meet his own expenses, as well as those of the bund.

He acknowledged having sent telegrams of "love and kisses" to Mrs. Florence Camp, as charged by the prosecution, explaining he had "liking for her at the time."

Liberal Party Returned In New Brunswick Polling

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Returned to office for a second term, Premier A. A. Dysart and his Liberal administration were faced today with an opposition more than four times as strong as in the last session of the provincial legislature.

New Brunswick voters gave Mr. Dysart and his supporters victory yesterday by electing 27 Liberal candidates to the legislature. At the same time 21 Conservatives won seats in the 48-seat House, compared with five members of that party who were successful in the 1935 election.

The Premier and the opposition leader, F. C. Squires, were returned in their constituencies, but three of Mr. Dysart's ministers went down to defeat.

Conservatives gained 16 seats from the Liberals, who elected 43 members in the 1935 election. Standing at dissolution of the 38th Legislature showed 39 Liberals, 5 Conservatives and 4 vacancies.

DYSART'S MAJORITY 2,720

Both leaders won handily in their constituencies. Mr. Dysart, with 6,473 votes, led his nearest Conservative opponent in Kent by 2,720 votes, while Mr. Squires, elected in Carleton, polled 934 votes more than the highest Liberal.

The defeated cabinet ministers were Attorney-General J. B. McNair, who lost out in York, and Hon. E. J. Henneberry, president of the Executive Council, and Dr. A. P. Paterson, Minister of Education, Federal and Municipal Relations, both of whom were defeated in Saint John City, where the Liberals lost four seats.

The election was one of the closest in the province's political history. Not until almost five hours after the polls had closed was the result known.

First returns in most constituencies gave Conservatives the lead, but gradually the government supporters pulled ahead. In most instances where Liberals were elected majorities were reduced from those of the last election.

So close was the voting in Albert County that returns there first showed one Liberal elected and a Liberal and a Conservative tied for the second seat. A check-up, however, gave the Conservative, Lewis Smith, a former agriculture minister, a three-vote margin.

Arrowsmith, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation supporter and first member of that party to contest a New Brunswick election, was defeated in Saint John City, while Wilfrid Verrett, Independent Liberal, lost in Madawaska.

ISSUES DEBATED

The election campaign, begun less than four weeks ago, was fought almost exclusively on provincial issues.

The government sought re-election on a record Premier Dysart and his followers held up as "sound, progressive and business-like."

New industrial expansion was promised by the government which outlined at the same time plans to base its future farming policies on the Empire's war needs.

Expansion of industry, particularly the mining industry, would come as a result of new development in the province, according to Premier Dysart.

The government promised also completion of a survey of Crown land and organization of a system of reforestation aimed to preserve timber resources, improve watersheds and increase New Brunswick's natural wealth.

The Conservatives charged the administration had spent too freely and contended there was need for re-organization of certain departments.

CONSERVATIVES' POSITION

Conservative F. C. Squires issued the following statement on the result of the polling:

"I wish to congratulate the premier on his victory, narrow though it is. The people of the province have expressed their will, and in a democratic country this must prevail. The opposition party have waged a valiant fight against great odds, and have all but prevailed. . .

"We believe we were fighting the battle of the people and the magnificent vote accorded us shows conclusively that the people at least appreciate our efforts, even if we did not catch their full support. . .

"In the meantime we shall do our share in contributing to the good government of our province, and be able to prove that the destiny of our country should reside in our hands as a governmental body."

JAPANESE CHECKED IN SOUTH CHINA

HONGKONG (AP) — Chinese government spokesmen reported today the Japanese advance into extreme south China had been checked. The advance, aimed at cutting the Chinese "lifeline" supply routes from British Burma and French Indo-China, was stopped a few miles from its landing point on Tonking Bay, the Chinese said.

The Japanese themselves reported no progress in 24 hours in the direction of Nanning, Chinese army headquarters in important Kwangsi province. Nanning also is terminus of one small-gauge railway from French Indo-China over which supplies have been moving.

The Japanese said they were consolidating their base positions on Tonking Bay.

Gandhi Repeats Independence Claim

BOMBAY (CP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi, demanding a pledge of independence as the price of co-operation in the war, declared today "the issue is purely moral, for owing to her material and military control, Britain is able to regulate garrisons and drain India's wealth at will."

The Indian Nationalist leader met at Allahabad with a committee of the Congress Party seeking to influence the country's attitude toward the war.

The Moslem League, second largest political party in India, has endorsed the white paper of October 17, deferring discussion of India's status until after the war. Gandhi and the Congress Party found this statement unacceptable and demanded "a declaration to free India from bondage."

Of the 11 provincial governments, eight dominated by the Congress Party have resigned in protest against the British position.

Zeballos Flood Condition Easier

ZEBALLOS (CP)—The racey Zeballos River's third "flash flood" in eight days receded today and about a dozen families prepared to return to their homes on the lower part of nearby Privateer Flats.

Heavy rains yesterday forced the waters in the mountain stream over the bank onto the low-lying flats. During the night, the rain stopped and the stream began to recede as rapidly as it had risen.

Residents said the flood level reached last night was lower than during the two previous floods of the last week.

The families who were forced to evacuate had just returned to their homes after the preceding flood.

Germany Lacks Officers, Tanks

By AXEL de HOLSTEIN
Havas Staff Writer

PARIS (CP)—With war on the western front still confined to patrol and artillery activity, French military experts today said they believed a German offensive had been delayed partly because of a lack of trained officers in the German army.

The French general staff now has information confirming that the German high command had decided on a big offensive in the west, including a drive through the Netherlands and Belgium, between November 12 and November 14.

The German troops remain massed along the Reich frontier from the North Sea to Switzerland and ready to attack. The original plan, according to reliable iindications here, provided for an attack not only through Belgium and the Netherlands, but also against French positions in Alsace and Lorraine, accompanied by attempts to cross the Rhine where it forms the Franco-German border.

Dispatches from Berlin reveal the Reich has relaxed the qualifications for the officers' corps, and that differences between active and reserve officers have been diminished. To make up the lack of training material in the officers' corps it is said the Reichswehr needs 17,000 more officers.

GAP WIDENS

NEW YORK (CP)—Dissension among the German army high command and Nazi Party leaders over conduct of the war has reached the point where Colonel-General Walther von Brauchitsch sought to resign, according to an Amsterdam copyright cable to the New York Herald Tribune today.

The dispatch came from Beach Conger, Herald Tribune foreign correspondent who left Berlin last week after one of his dispatches, critical of Germany's situation, had caused the Reich Foreign Office to cut off his news sources.

Conger said the resignation had been refused. In explanation of the situation he wrote:

"The army men, after all, are practical gentlemen and are considering all possible contingencies, but the party officials seem to be sold on the idea of pressing forward to the announced destruction of the British Empire."

WRONG TYPE TANKS

LONDON (CP)—Study of German equipment has convinced Allied military authorities that the German high command never expected to wage war in the west, the military correspondent of the Press Association reported today.

German tanks, according to these authorities, were designed solely for the "Blitzkrieg" in Poland and are not adapted for an attack on the heavily-fortified Maginot Line, he said. The German tanks were built for speed, and are not armored to stand up under fire either from stationary batteries on the western front or from the heavily-armored, heavily-gunned Allied tanks.

The German general staff, the Press Association correspondent said, apparently had relied on Adolf Hitler's diplomacy to avoid hostilities with the western powers and to limit fighting to Poland. The correspondent said it is extremely doubtful that Germany will be able to build more heavy tanks in large quantities.

Britain, he said, is daily increasing her production of a heavy tank reputed to be the most effective ever designed.

FROM RANKS

BERLIN (CP-Havas)—The German news agency announced today that every soldier henceforth will be given an opportunity to become an officer if he shows proof of bravery in the face of the enemy. The move is designed, the agency said, to fill out the officers' corps.

Manchoukuo Border Conference Nov. 29

TOKYO (AP)—The Foreign Office announced today a Soviet Russian-Japanese conference to mark the boundary of Japanese-protected Manchoukuo would open November 29 at Chita, Siberia.

The demarcation commission will consist of two Japanese, representing Japan and Manchoukuo, and one representative each for the U.S.S.R. and Soviet-guided Outer Mongolia.

Funeral in Ottawa

TORONTO (CP)—Funeral services will be held in Ottawa tomorrow for the late Mrs. Loring C. Christie, wife of Hon. Loring C. Christie, Canadian minister to United States, Mrs. Christie died here suddenly yesterday.

Mr. Christie, former counsel of the external affairs department in Ottawa, will go to the Dominion capital for the funeral services.

Pioneer Mine Reopening Put Off

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alfred E. Bull, secretary of Pioneer Gold Mines of British Columbia Limited, today said a repair crew of 25 men had been ordered to stop work at the strike-bound Pioneer Mine.

The crew began repairing the mine last week in preparation to resume operations after about 100 nonunion miners had decided they wished to return to work. Bull said the work was stopped after pickets, representing striking union workers, appeared on the scene.

The mine has been closed since October 8 when the Pioneer Mines Local of the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union called a strike after demanding union recognition and wage increases. Mr. Bull gave no indication today as to when it would reopen.

RAID ALARM IN NORTH FRANCE

PARIS (AP)—On the front the quiet was disturbed in two areas last night, the regions south of Saarbruecken and north of Bitche. Patrol activity was marked in these two sectors and was accompanied by artillery fire on both sides.

In Alsace the further rise of the Rhine forced both the French and the Germans to take new precautions along the river banks.

Northern France experienced a two-hour air-raid alarm today. Given at 10.45 a.m., the alarm was ended by an "all clear" signal at 12.45 p.m.

NAZIS' REPORT

BERLIN (AP)—French artillery abruptly ended a 35-hour silence on the western front today with heavy shelling in the Peri sector, at the junction of the German, French and Luxembourg borders, the German news agency reported.

The agency said the rest of the 100-mile western front sector between the Moselle and Rhine Rivers was quiet.

The German command reported Nazi reconnaissance planes had "accomplished their tasks according to schedule" in flights yesterday over England and France "despite enemy defence."

A communique, which noted only minor activity on the western front, said scouting assignments had been carried out over Scapa Flow, Scotland, southern England and an area north of Paris.

2 Bodies Recovered

GUNN, Alta. (CP) — Bodies of two young Gunn residents were recovered from about 35 feet of water in Lac Ste. Anne today. The boys, Jack Adams, 17, and William Lodmeil, 18, drowned after falling through thin ice on the lake during a skating party last Sunday.

Rumors Nazis Use Magnetic Mines

LONDON (CP)—A theory that Germany is using a magnetic mine was being widely discussed today in naval circles and newspapers following the sinking of the liner Simon Bolivar and other vessels.

Expressed views of naval experts ranged from the blunt statement that this is Adolf Hitler's "secret weapon" of which he boasted two months ago, to the dersive comment that such a mine belongs to the realm of fantasy.

The concensus, however, is that such a weapon is possible, but that the Admiralty is fully aware of all recent developments in mines and is working on ways to deal with them. If a magnetic mine exists, the view was held it will not be effective for long.

Speculation began when the captain of the Danish steamship Canada, giving evidence at an inquiry at Copenhagen into the loss of his ship, insisted she sank after an explosion caused by a magnetic mine. So far there is no official confirmation of his statement.

A number of naval writers said such a mine would rest on the sea bottom, out of reach of minesweepers, until the presence of the steel hull of a ship brought delicate mechanism into play and the mine was drawn up against the ship's bottom. No further details were offered.

Those who scoffed at the idea said the strength of a ship's magnetic field certainly is not great enough to attract a mine which is more than a few yards from the ship's hull.

RUSSIA'S BALTIC FLEET EXERCISES

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Russia disclosed today her Baltic fleet is holding large scale manoeuvres from newly won bases in that area. At the same time she warned Finland nothing "will ever break our decision to establish a strong peace all over the Finnish Gulf."

The warning was voiced by Admiral V. Tributz, commander of the Baltic fleet, in an article in the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda, organ of the Communist Youth League.

Tributz declared the Soviet fleet now was in command of the Baltic with the acquisition of bases from Estonia and Latvia. He said the Baltic fleet, previously landlocked in the Gulf of Finland by winter ice, now could navigate throughout the year.

(Negotiations between Finland and Russia over Soviet territorial demands were halted last week when a Finnish delegation refused Russia's demands and left Moscow.)

SAVINGS BONDS AID BRITAIN'S WAR

LONDON (CP)—The treasury will issue tomorrow national savings certificates and defence bonds for sale to the public to help finance the war, Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced in the House of Commons today.

The purchase price of the certificates will be 15 shillings ($3.33). They will have increased to 17 shillings 6 pence in 10 years.

The defence bonds will be purchasable in units of £5 issued at par with interests at 3 per cent. They will be repayable in seven years from date of purchase at a premium of 1 per cent.

"The date has not yet arrived," the chancellor declared, "to issue a loan on the open market."

Terukuni Japan's First War Ship Loss

NEW YORK (CP)—Reports that a liner believed to be the Terukuni Maru went down off the English east coast today presumably after striking a mine indicated Japan has suffered her first loss of the war.

New York officials of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Line, owners of the craft, said she left Shanghai last October 4 for London after loading a cargo at Yokohama and Kobe. They added she was due in London November 17 and although they had no confirmation of her arrival there they assumed she had dropped some passengers there and was en route to Antwerp when tragedy struck.

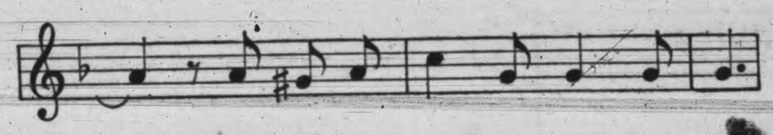
The 507-foot liner of 11,930 tons, was built at Nagasaki in 1930 and was considered one of the finest of her type. Her home port was Tokyo.

Nazis Accuse Dutch

BERLIN (AP) — Authorized sources said today that Nazi officials met charges of violating the Netherlands' neutrality with counter-charges of entry into German territory.

The Netherlands' charge d'affaires came to "talk" over alleged violations of Netherlands territory by German aircraft.

(A German plane, disabled by anti-aircraft fire, crashed in a Netherlands meadow yesterday. The pilot was killed. Netherlands aircraft also engaged Nazi planes last Saturday and Sunday.)



"What do we want with eggs and ham?"

Soldiers sang it in the last war: "What do we want with eggs and ham when we've got plum and apple jam? Oh, oh, oh it's a lovely war!" Nobody thought it was a "lovely" war—least of all the boys who fought it. But they were not going to let it get them down. So they cracked jokes and sang such light-hearted songs as "Oh, oh, oh it's a lovely war".

And just because they did keep their ability to make jokes about it, they stuck it out!

You remember Captain Bairnsfather's cartoons. They originated in the trenches. Old Bill always had his pipe and Alf. his cigarette. We in the tobacco industry are glad to recall that our products played no small part in keeping up the spirits of the troops, spirits so high that the men could laugh at themselves and their discomforts even in the most critical and arduous hours.

WANT CANDIDATES OUT OF MARKET

Aldermen seeking re-election and candidates aspiring to civic honors who are in the habit of visiting the market place on polling day to solicit votes were requested to refrain from this practice by resolution of the council passed yesterday, with Alderman J. A. Worthington voting negatively.

The move was proposed by Alderman W. H. Davies, who described as "embarrassing and humiliating the spectacle of bowing and scraping candidates cluttering up the market place entrance to meet their supporters."

"While I do not oppose the suggestion, frankly I sometimes see people down there that I have not seen for two years, and it is a real pleasure to renew their acquaintances," said Alderman R. A. C. Dewar.

A motion picture record of the Royal Visit in Victoria will be forwarded to King George by the City Council.

At the suggestion of Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins the council yesterday approved the purchase of an extra copy of a film which Alderman Hawkins had taken at his own expense, to be sent to the King.

A resolution of commendation will be forwarded to Alderman Hawkins for his interest in showing the moving pictures in up-island centres.

A meeting of the Lake Hill Red Cross Unit will be held in the Women's Institute Room tomorrow afternoon at 2.30. All those interested in Red Cross work are asked to attend.

School Board

MARCHANT LEAVES PUBLIC LIFE

Members of the Victoria School Board heard with regret the announcement made by Trustee W. P. Marchant at last night's board meeting that he would not run for any public office in the coming civic elections. He said while he had received some flattering offers giving opportunity of advances into higher public offices, pressure of other duties prevented him from taking advantage of them.

Mr. Marchant's name had been mentioned as a possible candidate for the mayoralty or the City Council.

"I have become much interested in school board work since I became associated with the board and I wish to say I have thoroughly enjoyed the harmony which has always existed among the trustees," Mr. Marchant said.

Expressions of deep regret over Mr. Marchant's decision were voiced by all, Trustee F. G. Mulliner noting that his retirement from the board would create a hole that would be difficult to fill.

The Christmas school holidays this Christmas will last 18 days, the board was informed in a letter from D. S. F. Willis, superintendent of education. Schools close on December 15 and will not reopen until January 3. January 2 was originally set as reopening date.

Recommendations made by Alex Munroe, fire chief, regarding school fire prevention requirements, were referred to the building and grounds committee for attention.

A communication was read from Cameron Investment and Securities Co. informing the board that normal rates of insurance would not be applicable during wartime. Extra coverage would be necessary to include war-cause damage. It was received and filed.

The job of painting and redecorating two rooms of Central Junior High School was granted William H. Graham. His tender was the lowest of five received, $87.

A letter from M. F. Hunter, city clerk, informed the board nomination day and election day for school trustees would be held December 7 and December 14, respectively. Four will be elected.

Trustee Mulliner drew to the attention of the board a circular on elementary placer-mining written by W. E. Cook, science instructor at Victoria High School, which had been issued by the Department of Education. It was a fine piece of work, Mr. Mulliner said, complete with maps, diagrams and glossary.

SCHOOL COSTS FOR 10 MONTHS GIVEN

Total expenditures for the 10-month period ending October 30 by the Victoria School Board were $393,321.14 a report submitted by the finance committee of the board at last night's meeting showed.

The trustees authorized the payment of accounts amounting to $6,637.21.

The attendance report showed that there were 100 more pupils enrolled in all city schools, including High School and Junior High School, during October of last year than this year. There were 4,800 last October and 4,900 in October of 1938. There were 33 more pupils in October than in September.

The October night school attendance was 1,045. The report from Claude Campbell, director, told there were several less classes this year than last year, but that the average attendance per teacher was higher. Many classes were full to capacity and overflowing in some cases. Night school fees taken in to date amounted to $3,310.50, an increase of about $1,100 over the last financial report to the board.

"The enthusiasm of the students and the regularity of their attendance, suggests that the great majority of the classes are efficiently instructed, and are supplying the needs of the students," Mr. Campbell reported.

During October 73 pupils were treated by the school dental clinic.

The report of the health department showed the department was keeping a thorough check on health of city school children.

Council Briefs

The council referred to its health committee a letter from R. W. Mayhew, M.P., in which he said he had urged the federal government to co-operate with Victoria, Saanich and Esquimalt in correcting sanitary conditions at the Gorge.

Notification was received from federal authorities of the cancellation of the city's lease on Clover Point. The council authorized notification of the Clover Point Fishermen's Club and the Lifeboat Association of the expiration of their rights on the point, where they have quarters located.

Plans for the construction of a $10,000 pet hospital in the 900 block on Pandora Ave. by Dr. M. L. Olsen, veterinarian, were outlined at a zoning hearing which preceded the council meeting. The applicant was instructed to have soundproof partitions in the building, which will be without windows and illuminated by a skylight. Final consideration of a by-law amendment to meet the application was tabled for a week.

Opposition to the granting of permission for the operation of a roller skating rink at 1052 Fort Street was contained in a letter from the Royal Trust and a petition from tenants of the October Mansions. The question was referred to the building inspector and Chief of Police.

The application for $250 damages of A. G. Brown, who suffered loss of furniture when he was evicted from his home on Superior Street in 1937, was referred to the city solicitor.

Appreciation for the services of P. W. Fisher, city rat catcher, were contained in a letter from R. B. Matthews.

The council accepted an invitation to attend a theatre performance in aid of the Solarium at the Empire Theatre on December 1 and 2.

On recommendation of the public works committee, approval was given the purchase of 1,000 pounds of split cane at 9 cents a pound for the city street sweeper.

Sale of two lots on the south side of Cormorant Street, between Store and Government Streets, at a cost of $3,500 was authorized on recommendation of the lands and zoning committee. Recommendations for the sale of a lot on Broughton Street, between Blanshard and Quadra Streets, at $1,250 and one at the southwest corner of Government and Simcoe Streets at a cost of $275 were approved.

Community Chest Collects $83,147

The Community Chest-Red Cross campaign finished its canvassing period last night with $83,147.02 collected in pledges out of the $100,000 objective.

Officials felt that the total would reach at least $90,000 during the week's clean-up period.

Last year's campaign had collected $70,493.61 during the same period which is $12,653.41 less than this year's collections.

The ladies' collecting division continue to bring in substantial collections, the total for the group having reached $19,001.29. Yesterday the ladies collected $767.28. Their total is $5,477.57 more than the division collected during the same period last year.

The A division of canvassers under G. H. Stevens collected $2,045 yesterday, bringing the total of the division of $51,784.50 in comparison with $45,161 collected during the same period of last year's drive.

All divisions have passed their last year's collections.

Urges Canada Preserve Free Speech

TORONTO (CP)—Senator A. K. Hugesson of Montreal declares that every care should be taken to preserve freedom of speech in Canada during the war.

"To the extent we restrict freedom of speech and try to make all men speak and think alike, we are lowering ourselves to the common enemy and doing those very things we condemn so strongly in the German Reich," he said in an address to the Women's Canadian Club here.

The Senator recalled how J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, voiced his objection in the House of Commons to Canada's participation in the war, while 99 per cent of the House members were in disagreement with him.

"But when he took his seat there was complete silence. It is a matter of pride that here in Canada we have working the British parliamentary system where a man can express his sincerely-held beliefs regardless of the fact that everyone else disagrees with him."

British Reprisals Promised

IS THE "MAGNETIC MINE" NAZI GERmany's "secret weapon" to which Adolf Hitler has referred on several occasions? This question is posed by naval and other writers in London newspapers today. Some suggest the answer is to be found in the indiscriminate sinkings of neutral as well as Allied ships during the week-end—because this type of mine is automatically attracted to the steel hull of any ship as soon as she comes within the radius of its magnetic influence. Berlin authorities naturally deny their mines have been responsible for the large toll of shipping in the last few days. One British authority, however, declares this supposedly secret weapon is not entirely secret, as "scientists have already been at work on ways and means of counteracting it."

On top of this speculation comes the statement from the Prime Minister that Great Britain does not propose to permit mine warfare to continue without retaliation. Mr. Chamberlain has announced the government has definitely decided upon counter measures for which an order-in-council will soon give authority. From the Daily Express, moreover, we get the news that Mr. Churchill "has only to touch a bell on his desk at the Admiralty to have plans of the world's most terrible secret weapon brought out of their steel hiding place." Speaking of the sinking of the Simon Bolivar, The Times of London, in an editorial this morning, says:

"That the Nazi government is guilty of another atrocity is not open to question. The outrage against humanity is distressingly visible at the hospitals in London and elsewhere in which survivors, largely women and children and all noncombatants, are being tended. Nazi propaganda, never hampered by considerations of consistency, will presumably take its usual course of hailing the destruction of British ships as a triumph of German naval skill and daring, while proclaiming that the mines that sank the neutrals were personally laid by Mr. Churchill."

Irrespective of the type of mine Germany has begun to use, it is becoming increasingly clearer that the Nazi hierarchy at Berlin is bent on the employment of all the agencies at its command if only to prove to the expectant populace of the Reich that the progress of the war from the military standpoint is satisfactory and producing results. Hitler and his colleagues, worried about unrest in the Czech and Polish protectorates, will stick at nothing to obtain what Propaganda Minister Goebbels can herald as success for one or more of the fighting services. Neutral and Allied peoples alike will not blame Mr. Churchill if he produces and uses the "terrible secret weapon" of which Lord Beaverbrook's Express speaks.

With a Reduced Majority

NEW BRUNSWICK'S PREMIER DYSART describes yesterday's general election as a vote of confidence in his government and says a substantially reduced majority will not prevent it from going forward with its progressive policies. Conservative Opposition Leader F. C. Squires evidently has no complaint to register; he is satisfied in his belief that the people at least appreciated his party's efforts, "even if we did not catch their full support." And although he lost three cabinet ministers in the battle of the ballots, saw his following in the Legislature—comprised of 48 members—reduced from 43 in the contest four years ago to 27, Mr. Dysart will meet the next Parliament with a margin of six seats in his favor.

In the New Brunswick contest, of course, the issues were largely local in character. There is no parallel whatsoever with the recent provincial elections in Quebec. Government and opposition parties are unanimously in accord with Canada's attitude toward the present conflict and, in common with the Dominion as a whole, will see to it that their province contributes its full quota to the national effort against totalitarian aggression. It should be said, however, that New Brunswick's progressive policies of which Premier Dysart speaks ought not to suffer by the advent of an opposition with conceivably more influence than that which the Conservative quintette was able to wield in the last House.

Bishop Wells Predicts

SEVERAL PUBLICISTS ON BOTH SIDES of the Atlantic in recent weeks have suggested that the time is not far distant when the present war will throw off its stalemate condition and produce an alliance between Great Britain, France and Germany to fight to a finish what is now widely described as Godless Russia. Added to those of this persuasion is Bishop G. A. Wells, formerly Anglican Bishop of Cariboo and now Chaplain-General of the Canadian forces, who expressed similar sentiments at the 121st anniversary service of the Metropolitan United Church in Toronto last Sunday. This well-known British Columbia divine drew a distinction between the German people and the Reich's leaders—he has a profound respect for the former, now "led by Pagans"—but he is convinced that the masses of the Russian people are as anti-Christian as their leaders; not so in the case of the Germans.

How much more serious a menace to civilization is Soviet Russia than the Nazi Reich is a matter on which opinions necessarily will be divided. The similarity of the philosophies preached in Berlin and Moscow needs no emphasis. It produced the pacts under which the two nations, utterly mistrusting one another, are working on the definite job of creating a situation that will cause the Allies to wonder what is coming next. Bishop Wells' statement, however, evokes two questions: Are the peasants of Russia as anti-Christ as he suggests? Are the German people as good as it is generally supposed they are—or as good as they used to be before they came under the spell of Adolf Hitler and his totalitarianism? Two decades ago 85 per cent of the Russian people were illiterate, simple, and, presumably, instinctively good at heart. Has Communism's enlightenment so radically changed their inner faith? For many years the high standard of Teuton intellect in the mass has not been seriously questioned. It submitted to wrong leadership in 1914. It supposedly had profited by the end of 1918. Yet the German people accepted Adolf Hitler in 1933, still accept him—and his anti-Christian philosophy—and to all intents and purposes are sufficiently solidly behind him to avoid open display of fundamental faith. The quality and lasting power of the German-Russian rapprochement, of course, has not yet been subjected to a real test. The stalemate in the west may produce it. How far the two countries are prepared to march together, and for how long, may throw light on the prediction which Bishop Wells has made.

The Province's Loss

ALTHOUGH THE TAXPAYERS OF British Columbia do not wax particularly enthusiastic when the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is mentioned, they do know that under the able direction of Mr. Robert Wilson, who has been connected with the system from the days of its construction until his tragic and untimely death at a banquet in Vancouver last night, it has been doing exceedingly well and is no longer the "white elephant" it used to be.

Mr. Wilson will be seriously missed by all the officers and employees of the provincially-owned railway line. The government has lost a most valued and trusted servant. He knew his job thoroughly, discharged his duties as conscientiously and efficiently as if the railway had been his own property, while the co-operation upon which he always was able to count from his staff speaks volumes for his many fine personal qualities which endeared him to all who knew him.

Our Neighbor's Business

OPPONENTS OF THE CHANGED United States neutrality law are still convinced that repeal of the arms embargo was bad business all round. They point to the fact, moreover, that barring American shipping from belligerent zones is putting the mercantile marine and thousands of seafaring men on the unemployed list. That some parts of the republic are profiting by the war at the expense of other parts also is causing alarm in many quarters—where new business is not in sight.

Some of the not altogether pleasant remarks about the Allies to which unimaginative critics are giving voice—for political reasons only—should not be taken seriously. No request that the United States repeal the arms embargo came either from Great Britain or France. What the United States did about it was, and still is, the United States' business.

Goldilocks was smart. She didn't stop to enter into a mutual assistance pact with the big bear.

The picture changes so rapidly in this new and exciting Europe that "once upon a time" can mean yesterday's editions.

The last we heard, the fellow who used to name Pullman cars had gone over to perfume and fingernail lacquers, and was doing quite well.

Hitlerism at Toronto

From Ottawa Journal

There is a practically unanimous expression of opinion in the press of Ontario and in municipal councils that the Ontario government should let municipal elections alone.

The Toronto Telegram puts one feature of the matter succinctly:

"The issue is not the merits or the demerits of a two-year term which admittedly are debatable. The issue is the arbitrary removal of the inherent right of the electors to have any voice on a question which is directly of vital importance to them."

The Telegram terms it further "a vicious piece of provincial autocracy."

The excuse of war expense is fudge.

Our own opinion is that the provincial government should let most everything municipal alone.

The province sems to be getting too much Hitlerism in the Ontario government.

One might imagine that the idea of the administrations at Toronto, not merely Hepburn's but previous ones also, is that municipalities are run by a lot of children or mental defectives, who can only make a mess of their business if let alone.

Municipalities may make and will make a lot of mistakes, but the biggest mistake in the premises is to think that the local business of the people can be handled better by some politician temporarily in office at Toronto than the local people can handle their own business themselves.

Looks to us that it is time to call a halt to that sort of dragooning.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

DEEP

THIS LEGISLATURE is getting deeper and deeper into the problems of modern civilization. When it got back as far as Marx and Engels yesterday, some members thought it was just a trifle over its depth.

It was, unexpectedly, Dr. Gillis of Yale who set out to explain these larger aspects of history. They didn't seem to have much place in a Legislature elected to run British Columbia, but Dr. Gillis thought they had a lot to do with it because it now includes the Socialist members of the C.C.F., and to Dr. Gillis Socialism is rat poison.

First of all Dr. Gillis solemnly proved the grave charge that Socialists are socialistic. He went to some trouble to substantiate this allegation, as if it were almost beyond belief. The Socialists smiled. But there was something more serious to come.

For the first time in the discussions of the C.C.F. Dr. Gillis boldly introduced the question of religion. Pointing out that he was a Catholic himself, he denied that his church attempted to interfere with any man's belief in politics, or forbade its followers advocating governmental control of anything. It only objected to movements which denied religion and the soul and preached atheism.

RELIGION

TO PROVE THAT the C.C.F. is basically materialistic and Godless, Dr. Gillis went into the whole history of Socialism from its earliest days in the last century, and he quoted at length from the writings of leading Socialists to show that they were opposed to the idea of religion. What, he finally demanded, is the C.C.F. stand on religion? What, shouted Mr. Cameron, is the Liberal stand? Read the C.C.F. platform, said Mr. Winch.

Dr. Gillis insisted that he could never get an answer to his question, could never get the C.C.F. to say where it really stood on anything definitely. But he quoted a statement by Mr. Lefeaux, president of the C.C.F., to the effect that its ultimate object is Communism. To which Mr. Winch angrily gave the not very effective reply that there is a great deal of difference between Communism and the Communist Party of Canada today.

BROADSIDE

DR. GILLIS is no orator, but his speech in an orator's mouth would have been front-page news and undoubtedly would have provoked a disagreeable scene. As he uttered it quietly and without excitement, it passed off without serious trouble. Some observers thought that the government was using Dr. Gillis to do a job of work on the C.C.F., but his relations with all the Liberal governments he has supported are not such that he would be utilized for any such manoeuvre.

He said himself that he had conceived his one-man assault three years ago and laid the speech away in a drawer. Then when he wanted it yesterday he had been unable to find it until the last minute and wasn't very familiar with it. But quiet as was its delivery, it is the kind of stuff, introducing religion, that makes plenty of trouble in politics.

It would almost have seemed, if we had not known Dr. Gillis' independence of governments, that both he and Mr. Leary had been put up to fix the C.C.F. Mr. Leary followed Dr. Gillis with a patriotic broadside. Speaking as a soldier of the last war he bared his soul, telling of his early struggles to make a living after the war, of the morning suit he had bought to meet the King and Queen, of the lump that rose in his throat at the sight of them, the tears that coursed down his cheeks.

Now, he said, stretching Mrs. Steeves' speech to the limit, the C.C.F. wanted to see the Empire plunged into oblivion. Mr. Winch said that was not what the C.C.F. had said. Mr. Leary came back with the resounding reply that that was what the C.C.F. had meant, anyway.

CONTAMINATION

SAM GUTHRIE was restive under Mr. Leary's blanket indictment and demanded its withdrawal. Mr. Leary came back sharply with the suggestion that if Mr. Guthrie were loyal he should withdraw from the C.C.F., for so long as he was contaminated by the disloyalty of the group he must pay the price of it.

Mr. Finland admitted that he was tired and under a terrific strain. Everybody who read the papers must know the reason, for on every front page were headlines declaring that "Finland was under a great strain." After this opening pleasantry he made a businesslike speech on the need of helping the municipalities, the government's financial failures and the desirability of giving $1,000,000 worth of B.C. products to Britain—Mr. Hart finding the money.

Mr. Strachan of Dewdney made his usual sound farmer's speech on the problems of men on the land and advocated the construction of roads needed by his constituents. If Mr. Hart listened to all the expenditures advocated in this debate he would have to double his expenditures, but as nobody expects him to listen perhaps it does no serious harm.

WORKING MAN

IT WAS LEFT to Mr. Guthrie to make the speech of the day. He hadn't intended to speak, but Dr. Gillis' slur on his religion and Mr. Leary's impeachment of his loyalty were too much for the simple working man from Cowichan-Newcastle.

Fists clenched, words tumbling out in a fierce stream, Mr. Guthrie denied that the C.C.F. was atheistic and, showing a broad background of reading, he demanded whether the Liberal Party was atheistic because of the views of John Morley, whether the Conservative Party was atheistic because of the agnosticism of Arthur Balfour? It made Dr. Gillis' argument look pretty far-fetched.

The other parties, said Mr. Guthrie, warming to his subject, tried to smear the C.C.F. with disloyalty and atheism because they couldn't answer the C.C.F. arguments and they were agitated because their system was falling about their ears. Actually the C.C.F. stood for religious liberty, wasn't concerned with religion but with politics, and didn't intend to interfere with a man's private property. And, arms waving, he declared that he was as loyal as any man—loyal to his country and to the working people who suffered under its present society.

It was an unprepared speech, off the schedule, but the C.C.F. couldn't have secured a better advocate than Mr. Guthrie, because all the House believes him and likes him.

Land's Sakes

THE REFRAIN of a poem written in the trenches by a British officer during the World War was: "It's a strange time." And now, over 20 years later, it's a strange time again. For example:

Many Bulgarian school children received a week's holiday to collect beechnuts, which make good fodder for pigs because of their oil content. They will be purchased by Germany.

Herr Hitler, according to reports in Copenhagen by travelers from Germany, amused himself on trips to the eastern front by playing "beaver"—a game which originated in England — with members of his entourage. He plays the game, the travelers said, by wetting the tips of two fingers and striking them against the palm of the other hand before Dr. Goebbels or other participants can cry "Beaver!" on sighting a man with a beard. The propaganda minister is reported to have lost consistently to his chief during those jolly little journeys.

FOURTEEN BARRELS of mothballs were used to preserve luxurious furnishings of the Normandie which were crated and stored away. The big French liner apparently is to remain at her New York pier for the duration of the war.

After German planes had staged a bombing raid on British warships in the Firth of Forth, canny Scots pulled out in rowboats and collected fish killed by explosions in the water.

In the streets of Italian cities automobiles have been largely replaced by bicycles due to the ban on private motoring and the high cost of gasoline—about 95 cents a gallon. Even men whose position enabled them to sport the most elegant cars may now be seen cycling from and to their fashionable apartments.

When Naples was subjected to blackouts the famous active volcano, Vesuvius, failed to co-operate. It put on its customary display by shooting flames skyward. So the next time the air alarm sounded Italian warplanes zoomed up and laid a smokescreen around Vesuvius. The story was told by a Baltimorean home from Europe.

THE FRENCH freighter San Pedro, which arrived at New York recently after a voyage that began with plane and warship convoys in submarine infested waters, was delayed by the birth of kittens. When she left Brest, France, for Plymouth, England, the vessel carried three cats. Precise authorities at Plymouth, stimulated by a strict quarantine on animals, held up the San Pedro for several hours while they examined the animals and changed the ship's manifest to read six cats instead of three to account for three kittens born during the crossing.

Yes, it's a strange time.

The Right To Be Wrong

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

THE TECHNOCRATS are not the only people who believe that the arrival of stable peace, and the consequent demobilization of the armies and the war industries, will create problems which cannot possibly be solved without far-reaching changes in our social systems. Most of the business men, politicians and financial people will tell you the same thing privately if you get them talking about what is likely to happen when peace breaks out. In my opinion, therefore, Technocracy is doing a genuine public service in educating the public as to what its studies suggest as one solution.

Where I think the Technocrats are acting completely contrary to the public interest is in systematically spreading the propaganda against the democratic principle of government.

Democracy as it has been is nothing to boast about. Like Christianity in practice, as compared with its original principles, it is a pretty pitiable imitation of what it is supposed to be. Yet it is by far the best system yet devised to advance and safeguard the rights of the great mass of the people. There is nothing good that has been done in any dictator country which could not have been as well done under democracy, even if a bit more slowly. And most of the outrages, the murder of millions, the persecution of whole classes and races, the degradation of whole generations, would have been utterly impossible, even in the countries where they did occur, under democracy.

The priceless heritage of self government by democracy is that the people have the right to get rid of goverments they do not want, and social conditions they do not want. They can get rid of capitalism if they really want to, or of any part of it.

But under democracy they have also the right to reverse their steps if they are disappointed by results. They can throw out the bar-room and if they do not like its successor they can also throw out prohibition. They have the right to be wrong—the right to make mistakes—the right to progress by the path responsible for all real human progress—namely that of trial and error, the learning by experience.

People who hand over the reins of government to any dictator without retaining the right to kick him out later on commit social suicide. Not Josef Stalin, Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini, Father Coughlin, Howard Scott nor the Angel Gabriel himself, is a fit dictator for a free people. Nor is there any argument quite so silly as that we should surrender to some leaders' brain trust what freedom we do have, to get some other freedom not yet attained, with no hope of getting either if the brain trust is wrong.

We should shun that doctrine like the plague.

REGULATING BUSINESS

From Distribution

It is the duty of each provincial government to do its best to encourage the development of trade and industry within its jurisdiction. When, however, this encouragement takes the form of discrimination between competing businesses, a trade barrier is established, and as a rule the consumer suffers. The boundary between legitimate government regulation of business and arbitrary interference is perhaps hard to define. There is accordingly all the more reason why governments should not overstep it.

B.C. Legislature

Loyalty and Religion Provoke Sharp Exchange of Views

Last shots of the B.C. Legislature's private "war on the war" were fired in formal debate yesterday afternoon when the C.C.F. Party was challenged again for disloyalty on one hand and irreligion on the other. Samuel Guthrie, old-time Socialist from Cowichan-Newcastle, jumped into the fight at the last minute to reply vigorously on both counts. The budget debate was wound up this afternoon by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.

Claiming that Socialism was based on a materialistic concept which meant the denial of God and the soul, Dr. J. J. Gillis, Liberal, Yale, declared it was time the party made itself quite clear on the point to the public.

"Not that I think they will ever be elected but it's high time the people knew," said Dr. Gillis, who gave the House an analysis of the origin of Socialism, said it had accepted the Darwinian theory, and, since its ultimate aim was Communism, must mean denial of religion.

C.C.F. members, he said, had asked him why his religion condemned Socialism and he told them that the Catholic religion did not condemn any economic system as such. Only when a system was intended to violate justice and morality did the church intervene to counsel its members against committing a wrong.

Most statesmen, said Dr. Gillis, fully realized that religion was the foundation of society.

DR. J. J. GILLIS
Liberal, Yale

SOCIALISTS AND LABOR

The Yale member said it was also time the public awakened to the relationship of the C.C.F. and organized labor, from which the party claimed considerable backing. He quoted the late Samuel Gompers, one-time president of the A.F. of L., describing Socialistic aims as "economically wrong, socially unsound and industrially impossible."

"Yes, but we have many labor men supporting us in Canada," said Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader.

"That's just why I am reading this," said Dr. Gillis. "It's time labor men understood your real aims."

He went on to quote W. W. Lefeaux, provincial president of the C.C.F., as saying the ultimate aim of the C.C.F. was Communism.

"My friend apparently does not recognize the difference between Communism and the Communist Party of this country," said Mr. Winch.

Dr. Gillis insisted the C.C.F. come out and say definitely how they stood.

"Read our program. You'll see it all there," said Mr. Winch.

"Well, if you don't believe in Marxian Socialism get up and deny it in the House," said Dr. Gillis.

"What's your definition of it?" countered Mr. Winch.

"I don't have to define it for you," replied Dr. Gillis.

CAPT. LEARY

Capt. C. S. Leary, Kaslo-Slocan, Liberal whip, provoked another sharp crossfire when he accused the C.C.F. of wanting to push the British Empire into oblivion.

"Don't try to misinterpret what was said," declared Mr. Winch.

"That's what you meant," said Capt. Leary. "You can't camouflage around here."

Capt. Leary said after their first disloyal statements had produced a violent reaction in the country C.C.F. members had tried, later in the debate, to modify and qualify what they said. Colin Cameron, C.C.F., Comox, insisted that he for one had made no retraction.

Capt. Leary said that if the C.C.F. had made their disloyal speeches on the dock when the Princess Pats left last week they would have been thrown into the sea.

He went on to describe the intense feeling of loyalty displayed when the King and Queen visited the coast in May, questioning the right of anyone to make disloyal utterances now.

GUTHRIE PROTESTS

"I object," declared Samuel Guthrie, C.C.F., Cowichan-Newcastle. "Just what disloyal utterances have I made? And I'm one of the C.C.F."

"It isn't fair. It's grossly unfair," he shouted as Capt. Leary persisted.

"Then I say a gentleman taking that view should withdraw from the C.C.F. group," said Capt. Leary. "Perhaps the gentleman has better ideas than the rest of them. But as long as a man is contaminated by contact with them he has to pay the price."

"Loyalty to King and country should be paramount in everyone's heart," he continued amid shouts of [illegible] from Conservative and Liberal benches.

Capt. Leary then quoted a series of statistics to show how veterans of the last war were assisted with pensions, rehabilitation schemes and various other forms of aid. The C.C.F. now attempted, he said, to exploit veterans who had not been so fortunate as others. He quoted a denial by Donald McTavish, president of West Vancouver Disabled Veterans' Association, of statements Mr. Winch had made.

Mr. Winch immedately announced that subsequent to that the secretary of the branch wrote him that the president had no authority to make such a denial.

Capt. Leary spoke then of Mr. Winch's quotations from the Canadian Legion and declared the whole trouble was caused by one branch of the Legion dominated by C.C.F. members.

Mr. Winch demanded withdrawal of this statement, claiming it was an insult to a branch of the Canadian Legion.

"I don't withdraw. I know the facts," said Capt. Leary.

He concluded with a summary of what work would be available for ex-soldiers in expansion of Canada after the present war, mentioning completion of two trans-Canada highways, construction of the Alaska Highway, extension of electric lighting and water facilities to farms, a land settlement scheme and building construction generally.

E. V. FINLAND

The burden of taxation in Esquimalt falls on 25 per cent of the land-owners of that municipality and the government should do something to relieve the situation, E. V. Finland, Conservative, Esquimalt, said.

Almost 75 per cent of the land and improvements in the municipality were exempt from taxation, and with a few slight exceptions these were all owned by the federal government. Mr. Finland said.

Every resident of Esquimalt was extremely proud of the honor and distinction of having the navy and army in their midst, but felt the Dominion government should help in some way, by maintenance of the roads, for instance.

The roads and streets of the municipality were laid out years ago by the Royal Engineers, before the Dominion came into being. They still today formed the only connecting land line between the naval and military establishments and Victoria.

ESQUIMALT PAYS BILL

"But they are being maintained today, with one or two very slight and unimportant exceptions, at the expense of the ratepayers of Esquimalt," Mr. Finland said.

In order to insure the fullest co-operation in the war, which the provincial government had promised Ottawa, he felt the B.C. government should impress on Ottawa the necessity of maintaining these roads and streets.

"I ask this government to bring these facts to the attention of the Dominion government, otherwise conditions of these roads and the effect of our co-operation will be seriously impaired," Mr. Finland said. "The Dominion government should assume responsibility for these roads. For years Esquimalt has carried the burden of these roads single-handed."

He asked for increase in the recreational facilities for use by the large numbers of young Canadians now being sent to Esquimalt in the armed forces.

The products of British Columbia could be as much the sinews of war as anything else, Mr. Finland said, and in this connection said the government should send $1,000,000 of natural products to Canada or Great Britain.

The budget, Mr. Finland said, offered little hope and virtually no encouragement to the municipalities.

"From the peak revenues I would say British Columbia was undoubtedly well able to give some assistance to the municipalities," he said. "The claims of the municipalities are urgent. It is ruthless and heartless of this government to withhold assistance, which the municipalities so badly need. The delay is shameful and unjustifiable."

E. V. FINLAND
Cons., Esquimalt

PLEA FOR FARMERS

"Some of the farmers in British Columbia are being thrown off the land simply because they can't meet their obligations—they are being sold out for taxes," said D. W. Strachan, Liberal, Dewdney.

He pleaded for relief for the farmers from excessive freight rates, which he said were working a new hardship on the land.

"We are not agriculturally-minded enough in this province," he said, "although British Columbia is an agriculture province."

Persons going on the land should have some experience, Mr. Strachan said. There was no use taking persons from the city and putting them on farms and expecting them to make a living, when men who had been on the land for years were unable to do so.

SAMUEL GUTHRIE

Samuel Guthrie rose at the end of the day, an unscheduled speaker, to give the C.C.F.'s final word in formal debate on the war issue.

He began by deeply resenting Capt. Leary's suggestion that the party was disloyal, declaring "I'm loyal because I love the country of my adoption. I'm patriotic because I want to see everyone in the country well fed, well housed and healthy. I'm a Socialist, certainly, because I don't believe in one class owning the wealth and means of production."

R. W. Bruhn, Conservative, Salmon Arm, interrupted that by the interpretation of his own leaders Mr. Guthrie must also be a Communist.

"We don't pursue the tactics of the Communists," replied Mr. Guthrie. "We don't believe in seizing goods from anyone, but we do believe in the state owning the plants and the means of producing them."

Mr. Guthrie said the party's opponents in the debates, having no real arguments against the C.C.F., had attempted to smear them with the terms Communist, anti-Christ, anti-God and anti-religion.

"You can't kill a great idea that way. If you could it would have died long ago," he said.

"You could kill it if you made sure everyone was well fed and well housed, but you can't do it with your system."

To win the war, he said, Canada, like Britain had found, would have to go into nationalization of industry. Already many things were directed by the state, the first step to socialism, "and it doesn't affect religion in the slightest," he said to Dr. Gillis.

Mr. Guthrie said it was quite true some of the Socialists did not believe in religion. But neither did some Liberals and Conservatives all over the world. He quoted the C.C.F. platform, which guarantees civil and religious freedom to everyone.

"Sure we stand for a complete change in the economic system," he concluded, "but if you can't put up arguments against us don't try to smear us with these silly remarks when your own system is falling about your ears."

$3,000,000 Works Loan Planned

Authority to raise $3,000,000 by loan for expenditure on public works in British Columbia next year was sought by the provincial government in a bill introduced in the Legislature yesterday.

The bill does not specify any particular project but gives the government power to raise the money for all types of works, including construction and repairs of highways, trails, sidewalks, bridges and ferries, municipal roads, public buildings, or unemployment relief.

This was one of a group of new government bills brought down yesterday.

Under an amendment to the Mechanics' Lien Act, a garage owner who repairs a car will be given the same lien protection as he now has if he allows a car to go out when only part of the bill for repairs is paid. Such liens do not supersede mortgages or finance company's rights.

Minor amendments to the Credit Unions Act, including provision for junior members in the unions under 16 years of age, were submitted by the Attorney-General. The Minister of Lands brought in a bill to reinstate two special timber licenses.

With the end of the budget debate in sight the House pushed ahead with other legislation as well, and 11 bills of a minor character were put through third reading.

YOUNGEST MEMBER—Arnold McGrath, B.Sc., M.A., M.P.P., Cranbrook, youngest member of the Provincial Legislature and probably the youngest parliamentarian in Canada, was born on a farm at Dodsland, Saskatchewan, June 2, 1912, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McGrath, both Canadian-born. He received his early education at the village schoolhouse and then studied at the University of Saskatchewan at Saskatoon where he took his degree in science, later going to University of Toronto for his Master of Arts degree. Some years ago he came to British Columbia to join his uncle, G. A. McGrath, pioneer lumberman of the Kootenays and head of the Columbia Contracting Company at Canal Flats. The new member worked there two years and became manager and is now a director of the firm. He is now a prominent resident of Cranbrook, being manager of the equipment branch of the Union Tractor and Harvester Company. He is interested in civic affairs and is president of the Junior Board of Trade.

"I'm enjoying my first session very much," he said today, "but I feel I have a great deal to learn." Mr. McGrath has been widely commended in the House for his excellent maiden speech, in which he dealt mostly with the problems of youth.

Salvation Army Taggers Get $1,000

Adjutant C. J. Milley, head of the public relations branch of the local Salvation Army corps, announced that the Red Shield tag day held by the army last Saturday had realized just over $1,000.

The exact sum collected was not available at present as boxes had still to be sent in from outlying districts.

Adjutant Milley expressed his thanks and appreciation to those who gave to the war service fund and to those who helped in other ways to make the tag day a success.

CORDOVA BAY RATEPAYERS

At a meeting of the Cordova Bay district ratepayers held at McMorran's Pavilion a resolution was passed that all residents and ratepayers of Ward 5 be cordially invited to a special meeting to be held at McMorran's Pavilion next Thursday, November 23, to amalgamate Ward 5 public into one strong organization for the betterment of the ward generally.

The formation of an entertainment committee is contemplated and the subject for the coming municipal election will be taken up.

CANDIDATE FOR WARD 7, SAANICH

The first contest for any seat on the Saanich council in the approaching municipal election was assured with the announcement today that Eric Wilkinson, 2828 Colquitz Avenue, will run in Ward Seven.

Mr. Wilkinson will oppose the re-election of Councillor Leslie H. Passmore.

Mr. Wilkinson is a native son of Saanich, having spent his whole life in Ward Seven. Recently he took an active part in the unsuccessful fight against the closing of Craigflower School, where he received his grade school education. He has also been interested in various other community organizations.

He is the first candidate besides present incumbents to announce his intention of contesting the Saanich poll on December 16.

87-YEAR-OLD VICTORIA MAN'S SUFFERING ENDS; PRAISES MOSBY'S TONIC

Mr. Sherk of Gladstone Avenue Says: "I Was in Distress With Gassy, Bloated Stomach and Bowel Constipation — Liver Sluggish, Torpid —Was Weak and Nervous—But Now, Thanks to Mosby's Tonic, I Am Relieved and Feel Fine Once Again"

MR. A. R. SHERK, 87-year-old Victoria Citizen, Who Says: "For 8 Years I Was a Sufferer. But Now, MOSBY'S TONIC Has Changed It All. This Is a Splendid Medicine."

"I never would have believed there WAS such a medicine!" That is what people are saying about MOSBY'S TONIC all over Victoria and throughout this entire section. This New, Scientific Formula is now being introduced to crowds daily in this city at Cunningham Drug Stores Ltd., Fort and Douglas Streets. Every week MOSBY'S TONIC helps THOUSANDS (this is literally true) right here in this immediate vicinity. Some of the best-known residents of Victoria are coming formard daily with Grateful Statements, publicly endorsing this New Compound. Seldom in history, say druggists, has any medicine been so widely praised by local people.

Among the many local residents who praise Mosby's Tonic, none is more enthusiastic than Mr. A. R. Sherk of 1300 Gladstone Avenue, Victoria. Mr. Sherk is 87 years of age and has lived here for 49 years. He is widely known. Read what he has to say about this medicine. His statement follows:

Was Victim of Upset Stomach, Constipation

"I am a man who has always lived an active life, but about 8 years ago I noticed that I was losing out physically and as time went on I got worse and worse, until recently my condition had become distressful," said Mr. Sherk. "My bowels were sluggish, slow-acting and very constipated; and my liver was torpid and sluggish and oh! how weak I had become. Besides all of this trouble, I had a badly Upset Stomach, and my meals would often cause such distressing pains that sometimes I was AFRAID to eat. It seemed like my food would ferment and form large quantities of gas inside of my stomach and this gas would cause a pressure way up into my throat, and sometimes I couldn't breathe properly. I was nervous and restless from my suffering and certainly got discouraged.

Now Mosby's Tonic Has Given Him Real Relief

"Now, as I said, this had been going on with me for a period of 8 years and getting worse all the time, and although I tried many medicines I never got any real relief, so I supposed I would always suffer. And then one day I read about Mosby's Tonic in the newspapers. I went to the Drug Store at once and got this medicine. And I am glad to say that it has proved to be just what I needed ALL THE TIME. Oh! how it helped me! Why, I'm a changed man now. It relieved that constipation and liver sluggishness, and another thing, it has cleared the gas and bloating from my stomach so I can enjoy a hearty meal now without suffering. My nerves are stronger and I can sleep fine from the time I go to bed until I get up the next morning. This is a real medicine, and no mistake about it, and I gladly endorse it to all."

Acts Many Ways on Your System at One Time

MOSBY'S TONIC contains 20 ingredients. So it acts in many ways on your system at one and the same time. It brings forth gas and bloat from stomach, acts on the bowels, stimulates the flow of liver bile, and makes sluggish kidneys more active, and helps relieve rheumatic and neuritic pain when due to contaminated system from the sluggish action of these organs. In short, due to its many ingredients, Mosby's Tonic acts as a carminative, laxative, cholagogue and diuretic, all at the same time. Weak, worn-out people write us daily they get such a cleansing and invigorating from this medicine that they soon feel like different men and women. Due to the immense volume in which it sells, the Price of Mosby's Tonic is Reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY—and start taking it.

Perhaps the most important of Canada's contributions to the war is expected to be the establishment of training facilities for pilots and ground crews from all parts of the Empire. Eager to make themselves useful in the great expansion program, air-minded Canadian women are preparing themselves for service in any capacity. At Kingston, a group of them are working in the collegiate workshops, learning what makes an airplane motor tick and how the fuselage goes on. They have been organized by Margaret Elizabeth Crerar, daughter of the former commandant of Royal Military College, Brig. H. D. G. Crerar. They are shown working on an engine.

Special War Medals For Gallant Women

LONDON — Medals will be awarded to members of the Civil Defence Services for gallantry and devotion to duty under aerial bombardment, and the authorities are now considering what type of decoration these shall be.

At present the only available medal is the O.B.E., but the government is expected to make an announcement regarding the creation of a new order. Women territorials and members of the auxiliary services of the navy and air force will be eligible for the same decorations as the men who are serving in the armed branches.

Women are being treated the same as men these days. If an officer enters a restaurant or tea-room, a member of the ranks of the A.T.S. should leave the room immediately, as in the regular army.

Members of the Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service need not salute men, according to an official bulletin just issued. They are required to salute their own officers when in uniform, but salutes given to regular or territorial inspecting officers in uniform or to officers of the unit to which the company is attached are a courtesy and cannot be enforced.

All ranks of the A.T.S. must observe the customs of the service in respect of the association of officers, N.C.O.'s and other ranks, and the use of officers' messes, sergeants' messes or institutes by the A.T.S. may be permitted by the courtesy of the C.O. of the unit concerned.

Leave may be granted in case of urgent private affairs, such as the return of the husband or an officer or member of the A.T.S. on leave or wounded.

THE NEW "STRIDE"

It is remarkable to see the thousands of women walking around London now with a military stride that contrasts so vividly with their high-heeled short steps of a month or so ago.

The drill which goes with their uniforms, and the war work which they are doing, accounts for their more upright carriage, straighter shoulders and an easy swing.

Bicycles, too, are coming to the fore, and housewives who usually take out their small cars on morning shopping expeditions are now going back to their discarded bicycles in order to save petrol for more festive occasions.

Cycling wardrobes are being planned and many dress designers are making a feature of these garments. One store is showing a pleated tweed skirt specially designed to conceal the knees in a strong wind.

Mrs. F. R. Roosevelt Scores Browder

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said in a letter received here that Earl Browder, secretary of the Communist Party of the United States, seemed to consider himself "responsible to a foreign power" in his work in the United States.

Dr. Harry H. Nagle, 20th district American Legion Americanism chairman, who got the letter, made it public. He had written the President's wife to learn if she had been quoted correctly as denying Communists sat on the American Youth Congress board of directors. She said she had.

"It is one thing for our citizens whose first allegiance is to the United States to feel that they can improve our form of government . . .," the letter read.

"It is quite a different thing, however, when anyone considers himself under the direction of a foreign power and responsible to a foreign works actively and in a surreptitious way in this country.

"Both Mr. Browder and Mr. (Gil) Green (young Communist leader) and a number of other people seem to do this, and the sooner they are discredited the better."

LANGFORD

The Junior W.A. will hold their annual sale and tea on Saturday, November 25, at the home of their leader, Mrs. G. Phipps, Station Road, at 3.

The monthly card party under the auspices of the Prince Edward branch No. 91 Canadian Legion will be held November 29, not on the fourth Wednesday this month. Progressive 500 and contract bridge will be played at 8.

ARTICLE No 12
By Robert G. Jackson, M.D.

ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D.

RECENTLY a letter from a Pennsylvania dealer complained that the U.S. has raised the duty on my foods and said: "It seems peculiar that this should happen between two friendly countries. We Americans think so much of your work and foods, and wonder why you can't make them in the States. We have some land we would gladly donate for that purpose. If interested will gladly give further particulars. Build a factory here so Americans can buy these foods at same price as Canadians do."

I did not tell him that although thousands and thousands of Canadians buy my foods at half the price paid by Americans and Britons there still are thousands who have never had the food and health understanding even to try them. Thousands more, who have tried them, admit their superior value but are weaned away by what seems to be lower prices, not realizing "things are usually worth just what they cost." Usually these foods that seem cheaper cost more per ounce or pound and are almost always dead foods that cannot build live, elastic, flexible, resilient, resistant and youthful bodies, such as mine at almost eighty-two.

I wish it understood Dr. Jackson Foods are the only foods containing flax-o-lin and with it my cereals Dr. Jackson Meal (formerly Roman Meal) Bekus-Puddy and Lishus and my alkaline beverage Kofy-Sub, remain in a class by themselves as body-builders—a fact which the people of England, the United States and other health-minded countries have more readily understood than have "mine own people." However I do not urge anyone to use my foods. Your health-consciousness or lack of it must be your guide to use or refuse them.

One-half million copies of my book "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL" have been sold at $3.00 per copy. If interested in better health, write for particulars to Robt. G. Jackson,

Overseas Nurses In Same Old Blue

But Curls To Be Permitted Under Starched Veils

OTTAWA (CP)—It's the men who are changing their battle dress this war—the women will wear the same style of uniforms worn 25 years ago.

The soldiers have discarded their buttons, puttees and Sam Browne belts and even changed the cut of their trousers, but the nurses have just shortened their skirts, tilted their hats at a jauntier angle and pushed their veils back further on their heads.

Veteran soldier-patients broke into war reminiscences when they viewed the blue-uniformed figures of the young nurses who will tend the First Overseas Canadian Division. Their service uniforms are in the same mid-blue cotton as last time, in two-piece style with six small shiny brass buttons on each side of the tight-fitting bodice, and they still have the starched white collars and cuffs.

But the headgear will be more feminine. The severe white line of the stiff white organza veils across the brow will be relieved by soft waves or curls.

The strings of their white aprons worn over the uniform pass through shoulder bands, marked with two "pipes" to denote their rank of lieutenants to tie at the back. The nursing supervisor has three "pips" on her houlder, for her rank is epuivalent to a captain.

On the streets in Toronto, where 46 nurses are in training at M.D. No. 2, they cut a neat pattern in their navy blue belted ulsters and their shallow soft-brimmed sports hats turned up at the back and down at the front. Their oxfords, gloves and stockings were brown in tone, carrying out the army tradition. They will have large navy envelope-styled bags to carry enough foibles for an overnight trip when their wardrobe is complete, but most of their belongings will be packed in a trunk and dunnage bag.

There is a long cape included in their wardrobe, of navy blue wool lined with red and fastened at the neck by two Army Medical Service Corps badges and a chain.

The girls don't wear any nail polish, little lipstick and are instructed "not to roll their stockings."

This recent picture shows Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, right, with her daughter, Princess Juliana. The world's eyes recently were focussed on Holland, where Premier Dirk J. De Geer said the nation was "fully prepared for any eventuality" and determined to maintain its neutrality. He minimized the general belief that Holland was mobilized against a specific threat of attack by Germany.

Flay Government For 'Muddling'

British Meeting Wants Women In Key Positions

Special Correspondence

LONDON — Various departments of the government were castigated at a very heated meeting of the Women's Freedom League to discuss women's work in time of war.

The main outcome was the contention that "the present chaotic conditions" would never have arisen in the civil defence services if women had been placed in key positions. A resolution was also passed strongly protesting against the different rates of pay for men and women in these services. This declared that £3 a week for men and £2 for women was entirely unjustifiable. A demand was made, too, that the scale of payments for injury, allowances and disablement pensions should be equal for both sexes.

Mrs. Corbett Ashby declared that after eight weeks of more or less immunity from crises, the civil defence services had been left in complete chaos. The rates of pay for women officers had not been fixed, and hardly any efforts had been made to ensure conditions which would give even a minimum of decency and efficiency.

"MUCKED UP"

Miss Florence Underwood, secretary of the Women's Freedom League, said that if women had been placed in charge of some of the food supply services they would have saved the country millions of pounds. Similarly, "if a woman had been at the head of the Ministry of Information we should not have lost hundreds of thousands of pounds there."

When Miss Alison Neilans, secretary of the Association for Moral and Social Hygiene, rose to speak she declared that because the men had completely ignored the advice which could have been given by women who understood domestic problems, the evacuation scheme had been completely "mucked up."

MEN AND GIRLS NEVER MEET

An amusing situation has arisen in one government department where members of both sexes are not allowed to mix. During air-raid warnings, however, it was found that men and women congregating in the shelters were getting to know each other.

Now, however, when the sirens are sounded the girls walk down one staircase in single file, followed by the men. But when they reach the bottom, they turn to the right and the men to the left.

The girls have a female air-raid warden and are marched away for the duration of the raid. So there is little chance of their being contaminated!

Mme. Sun Yat Sen In Moving Appeal

The Committee for Medical Aid for China is in receipt of a letter from Madame Sun Yat-sen, chairman of the China Defence League in Hongkong, through which shipments are sent from Victoria, which reads in part as follows:

"The Far Eastern front remains a key area in the struggle against Fascist aggression, and it may yet prove to be the decisive one. A free China is the only guarantee of peace in the Far East. A free China would be the first and greatest step towards peace and freedom throughout the world!

". . . That is why we appeal to you earnestly now—not to relax your past efforts in China's behalf, but to continue and even to extend them!

"What does China need? Drugs—in immense quantities—for the fighting of malaria, cholera, typhoid, dysentery and relapsing fever. Hospital equipment of every kind to improve the medical services. Dressings, bandages and first aid supplies. Blankets for the protection of the wounded during the coming winter. Tinned milk and concentrated foodstuffs for the sick and wounded, for China's orphans of her two-years' war. Funds—all the more valuable now, since the favorable exchange with the Chinese dollar—for the extension and support of these services."

It will be the sincere endeavor of the Victoria committee to carry on and extend its work with the co-operation of its friends of the past and it hopes many new ones. Bandage making has been much retarded over the past month through lack of material and the committee appeals for old sheets and pillowcases, other old white or new material for this purpose and for blankets and wool for knitted blankets, which it is continuing to send.

The regular monthly shipment went out to Hongkong at the end of last week, consisting of nine cases containing bandages and dressings, clothes and 26 blankets, afghans and quilts.

The headquarters of the committee are at 617 Broughton Street, and are open from 2 till 5. The telephone is E 4725.

STRAWBERRY VALE

The regular meeting of Colquitz Women's Institute was held with Mrs. George Austin in the chair. A letter was read from the women's voluntary registration committee expressing appreciation for effective assistance rendered by the institute. Intimation was made of the appointment of Mrs. E. Groutage as head of the Strawberry Vale Red Cross unit. The institute has begun a series of 500 parties to be held in the Institute Hall every two weeks, when half of the net proceeds will be devoted to Red Cross activities.

A successful afternoon tea was held in Colquitz Hall when local Girl Guides entertained their mothers and friends. An excellent program was presented under supervision of Capt. Barrack and Lieut. Barrack, while Miss Phyllis Sheffield was in charge of the Brownies. It was decided to hold a similar function in January.

NATIONAL RED CROSS WAR DRIVE FOR $3,000,000

From 1914 to 1918 the Canadian Red Cross provided and equipped scores of ambulances for overseas service.

Again the Canadian Red Cross must build and equip several hospitals in England and France to care for our sick and wounded. Six overseas hospitals were maintained by the Canadian Red Cross in the last war.

X-Ray equipment, and thousands of cases of surgical supplies and dressings, must be provided to the Red Cross hospitals in England and France throughout the period of the war.

The Canadian Red Cross must be ready to send thousands of packages of socks, cigarettes, candy and comforts to the Canadian troops. Food, medical supplies, books, clothing and tobacco must be sent to Canadian prisoners of war.

THE NEED IS URGENT

DIG IN AND GIVE!

The need is urgent even now. The call again goes forth from the Canadian Red Cross. You are asked to give big-heartedly, to give willingly, to give enthusiastically, to give quickly. The work of equipping hospitals for Canadian heroes in England and France must be started at once in preparation for the suffering which is to come. Our delay will be measured in human agony. Nurses and ambulances must be waiting. Surgical supplies, X-ray equipment, bandages and countless other necessities must be on hand. Not a moment can be lost, lest we fail those who will not fail us.

Here is a great work in which we all can share. Thousands of lives will be saved and untold suffering will be avoided if only we are prepared. In the last war Canada gave nobly of herself in humanity's name. Without coercion, without the painful domination of a barbaric government, Canada gave a generous offering in recognition of her debt to those who so nobly represented her in the battle for liberty.

Once again has come the opportunity to display our devotion to duty. There is only one answer. We must be prepared. We must not fail. We cannot all go overseas, but we can at least be ready to help those who do—we dare not forget that they will be fighting for us.

Let us be watchful and waiting to save life, to alleviate pain, to give comfort. We have a definite part to play. Be proud to help those who make the greater sacrifice.

A corps of voluntary workers will make a canvass of as many people as possible during this drive. If one of these workers should fail to get in touch with you, please send your contribution to your local Red Cross branch. Give big-heartedly.

3 Simple Steps Now Speed Up SAFE Cold Relief

THE SAFEST FAST RELIEF YOU CAN GET BY FOLLOWING DIRECTIONS SHOWN HERE

1. To quickly relieve headache, body discomfort and aches, take 2 Aspirin Tablets and drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

2. For sore throat from cold, dissolve 3 Aspirin Tablets in ½ glass of water and gargle. Pain, tawness are eased in a very few minutes!

3. Check temperature. If you have a fever and temperature does not go down, if throat pain is not quickly relieved—call your doctor.

Quick-Acting Aspirin "takes hold" in minutes... Don't accept anything else.

This is the fastest way you can treat your cold safely. It's the method millions use—replacing slow-acting and strong, questionable medicines.

Don't risk using preparations you don't know all about. Aspirin is safe—even when taken frequently, it does not harm the heart. Doctors themselves prescribe it. Use it as shown in the pictures above and get fast relief.

Aspirin acts very fast, because it is made to disintegrate as soon as you take it—within 2 seconds after touching moisture. Hence is ready to "take hold" of pain and start relieving it at once.

Even the most stubborn cold is quickly relieved this way. Try it. Get Aspirin. All Canadian druggists have it.

Aspirin is made in Canada and is the trademark of The Bayer Company, Ltd.

WARNING! If the word "Bayer" is not on every tablet, it is not Aspirin. Don't let anybody tell you it is.

Seek Approval Of Bond Sale

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Nanaimo city council last night took steps to gain government approval of a plan for sale and repurchase of city bonds.

It has requested the British Columbia government to empower it, under a by-law and without reference to the electors, to issue and sell $153,000 worth of city of Nanaimo serial debentures, repayable in various amounts from one to 25 years.

Proceeds of this sale are to be used for repurchase of $145,000 city of Nanaimo 5 per cent bonds, due April 30, 1970, and issued under authority of the "waterworks improvement by-law 1930." These latter bonds are held by the Minister of Finance and the Workmen's Compensation Board jointly.

The council has protested against having to pay interest on bonds held by the Workmen's Compensation Board in United States funds. Payment in Canadian funds was refused by the finance department several weeks ago.

The council also entered a contract with Lauder Mercer and Company, Vancouver, for the purchase of $145,000 city of Nanaimo bonds due in 1970 and yielding $138,968.

The bond dealers in turn will buy from the city $153,000 city of Nanaimo bonds bearing 4½ per cent interest maturing in 1940 and 1964 and amounting to $139,612. The new bonds will be payable in Canadian funds.

25 Years Ago

NOVEMBER 21, 1914

LONDON — "The German attempts to break through the Russian armies in Poland have sustained a severe check, which, according to present indications, is likely to have decisive consequences for the enemy," says a dispatch from the Petrograd correspondent of the Times. The message continues: "The official report of the capture of a battery northwest of Lodz is extremely significant, suggesting the probability of a successful Russian flanking movement from the direction of Piotrkow."

OTTAWA—The first "Canadian navy list" was published today. It is published by the naval service department, and contains some interesting information relative to the ships of the Royal Canadian Navy. The flag officers are: Vice-Admiral Charles E. Kingsmill, director of naval service, and Rear-Admiral William O. Storey, R.N., superintendent of the Esquimalt dockyard.

NORTHERN FRANCE — The Prince of Wales, now on Field Marshal Sir John French's staff at the front, had a busy time on Wednesday and Thursday. His military duties kept him on the move from early morning until late in the afternoon, bringing into play his big motor car, which has just been sent across from England. He is winning the high praise from officers and men by his unassuming zeal.

CONTINUE BATTLE TO RETAIN KILT

As the kilt had always symbolized the freedom-loving and unconquerable spirit of the Celt and the Gaul, its abolition in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces would be disastrous, was the unanimous opinion at the monthly meeting of the Vancouver Island Pipers' Society Saturday evening in the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion headquarters.

"The prosecution of the present war has become a crusade of the very ideals that characterizes the wearing of the kilt," the members felt.

In view of the feeling of the meeting the historical committee of the society composed of Colonel Ross Napier, Colonel Donald McGugan and George Gamble, was instructed to prepare a brief to be presented to Prime Minister MacKenzie King protesting the recent announcement by Major General A. G. L. McNaughton that "there was no room for the kilt in the Canadian Expeditionary Force."

Other members were appointed to represent the society on a committee of all Scottish and kindred societies to join the fight to retain the kilt.

Check On Candidates

REGINA (CP)—Opposition to Communists or Nazis holding civic office is expressed in a resolution passed at the November meeting of the Regina branch of the Canadian Legion. The resolution exhorts all citizens to exercise their franchise on election day and at the same time take a stand against Communists and Nazi candidates "no matter how skilfully camouflaged."

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD CONFERENCE

The annual fall conference of the Lower Island Y.P. Council was held on Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. Reid opened the conference with an address of welcome, after which the members divided into discussion groups.

Committees for the congress follow: Registration, Winnie Kearley; recreation, V. Shoemaker; social, Jim McCague; fellowship, Miss M. McDougall; citizenship, Professor Farr, Glenys Hale; leadership training, Mun Hope.

The recreational period followed the discussion group and several new games were introduced by Mr. V. Shoemaker.

Among those introduced at the banquet was Dr. Reid, who gave an inspirational talk on "The Building of a New World."

Presidents at the conference included Mary Loudoun, First United; Len Cannon, Metropolitan; Mollie Kennedy, Oak Bay; Ruth Morgan, Esquimalt; Roy Hundleby, Belmont; Dick Wright, Victoria West, and Jim McCague, Centennial.

A devotional service was held on Sunday afternoon. Introductory remarks were given by Mun Hope. The scripture was read by Ruth Barclay. The guest speaker was Mrs. Nellie McClung, who followed the same theme as Dr. Reid. She stated that the young people of today are building the new world of tomorrow.

A vote of thanks on behalf of the conference delegates was extended to Mrs. McClung by Mun Hope. The installation of officers of the Y.P. Council was done by Rev. Crees.

The officers are: Past president, Mun Hope; president, Mary Loudoun; vice-president, Orval Bennett; secretary, Winnie Kearley; assistant secretary, Bety Almond; missionary convener, Ruth Barclay; cultural convener, Mona Emery; fellowship convener, Giles Smith; citizenship convener, Roy Hundleby; press reporter, Marianne Cornish, together with the presidents of the various societies.

Presentation of the Thomas Crosby Challenge Shield was made to the Esquimalt United Y.P.S. and St. Aidan's. This shield was previously held by Esquimalt United Y.P.S.

The conference was brought to a close with a communion service conducted by Dr. Reid. Rev. James Hood pronounced the benediction.

FAMILY DINNER

FISH

PARTY DINNER

makes ANY dinner complete

WHETHER it be for the main course at the family dinner, or as an item in a party dinner, FISH lends pleasing new tastiness to the menu.

Many thousands of women in Canada have learned of the food value of Canadian Fish and Shellfish; of the many different varieties available all the year 'round, either fresh, frozen, smoked, dried, canned or pickled; and of how easy it is to prepare delicious meals with FISH from inland waters or from the sea.

Plan to serve Canadian Fish to your family several times a week, either for lunch or dinner.

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES, OTTAWA:

OVEN COOKED FILLETS OF FISH

(Cod, haddock, halibut, whitefish, sole, etc., may be used.)

The fish may be cut into pieces of suitable size for serving or the fillets may be left whole. Dip each piece into salted milk (one-half tablespoonful of salt to one-half cupful of whole milk or diluted evaporated milk), toss into a pan of sifted dry bread crumbs, coat thoroughly and place in a well-oiled baking-pan. Sprinkle with oil and place in a very hot oven —500 deg. Fahr. Bake until the fish is tender and the crumbs nicely browned (about 10 minutes). Serve with Tomato, Hollandaise, Caper or Tartar Sauce.

Major Hockey

Canadiens To Tackle Boston

BOSTON (CP)—Undefeated in four games, Montreal Canadiens will try to extend their streak tonight in a National Hockey League game against the world champion Bruins in Boston.

It's a tough assignment for the Habitant flyers, for beating Boston at any time is a full night's work and beating them in their own lair ranks among major jobs. In addition, the Bruins, after dropping their first two games, have scored two victories and a tie in their last three.

Canadiens have their eyes set on first place, however, and can gain this objective with a victory. A win tonight will place them in a tie with Toronto Maple Leafs, who like the Habitants, have not yet been beaten.

There is only one game tonight and Boston by winning can gain a second place tie with the Montrealers.

Bruins and Canadiens have met once before this season, in Montreal last week, and the game ended in a tie. Canadiens had most of the play in this contest but Bruins rallied in the third period for two goals that wiped out a 3 to 1 lead.

Both clubs came out of their week-end engagements unscathed. Canadiens beat Rangers 2 to 1 in overtime in New York and Boston blanked the Hawks 2 to 0 in Sunday night games.

SCORING AVERAGES

Three good reasons why the Toronto Maple Leafs are leading the league were revealed last night in the league's first official scoring list of the season, showing the Leaf's ace line of Gordon Drillon, Syl Apps and Bob Davidson holding down the first three places.

The smooth skating Drillon, league scoring champion two seasons ago, is in front with nine points, five goals and four assists, while his linemates are tied for second place with seven points each.

Veteran Cecil Dillon, wearing the colors of Detroit Red Wings this season after long service with New York Rangers, is next with six points, while right behind him are Kenny Kilrea of Detroit; Toe Blake, of Montreal Canadiens, last year's champion; Milt Schmidt of Boston, and Mac Colville of Rangers.

Drillon and Apps share the lead as goal-geters with five, while Davidson's six assists place him in front as a playmaster.

Babe Pratt of Rangers, with 18 minutes in penalties, is leader in this department.

By PETE SALLAWAY

VICTORIA'S Canadian champion Dominoes and organized basketball yesterday parted company. So unless the Victoria and District League finds a gym that measures up to the specifications as laid down by the international committee on rules this city's leading club will not defend its British Columbia, western Canada and national titles this season.

Irrespective of the right or wrong in the squabble that has disrupted basketball in this city in recent weeks, is is a mighty bad blow to sport in Victoria to have the Dominoes give up these championships. In winning the Canadian title last spring the Dominoes brought this city a lot of valuable publicity throughout Canada. It was the second time the crown had rested in the capital of British Columbia. With another club lined up for the current campaign there was every indication the Dominoes would have a good chance to successfully defend their laurels. Now that chance is gone.

In other words Victoria is left without her number one club to go up against the mainland winners in the provincial final. The Senators are the other club entered in the local senior division, but even their most ardent supporters cannot class them in the same class with the present Canadian champions. The playoff for the city championship last season between the two clubs was a pretty good indication of the relative strength of the two outfits. The Senators have no doubt strengthened their squad for this season, but we cannot see them taking up where the Dominoes left off.

Looking over the situation that has developed in Victoria basketball we must say there has been a definite suggestion of feuding in the dealings all around. Hard feeling has crept into meeting after meeting. The Dominoes, like all champions, are not liked by a certain group. One will find that in all cases where a club is a winner. Somebody always wants to knock them off. As far as the negotiations between the league and Sports Centre Ltd. were concerned, both sides had certain ideas and would not deviate one degree either way.

Loss of the Dominoes is a decided blow to organized basketball. The Victoria club, since the days when it was known as the Blue Ribbons, has always packed lots of color and has proven a big attraction in the B.C. playoffs in Vancouver. The provincial association will not take kindly to the resignation of the number one Victoria team, as it will mean a decided drop in financial returns in the senior men's series. After all it surely is not the intention of the Victoria league to stage B.C. playoffs in the Y.M.C.A. or Esquimalt gyms.

Final outcome of the breaking away of the Dominoes remains to be seen. The club can still be taken back into organized basketball. They are not outlaws or have not been suspended. However, if they go ahead with plans to play against clubs from Seattle and other United States points it is hard to say just what action the B.C. Basketball Association or the Canadian Basketball Association will take. All in all it is an unfortunate mess and one that local officials should have done everything in their power to have averted. After all the Dominoes have a fine basketball team and should be out battling for championships and not playing as an independent club.

ABC Head Speaks To Local Bowlers

Charles E. Vance, field representative of the American Bowling Congress, Milwaukee, spoke to members of the Victoria Bowling Association at their first annual smoker held in the Elks Club last night.

"The American Bowling Congress has a membership totaling well over 1,000,000 in the United States and Canada. There are more than 13,000,000 men and women bowling the tenpin games on the North American continent," Mr. Vance said.

The speaker then told of the large number of bowlers who attended the A.B.C. tournament in Chicago. There were 4,957 teams entered in the tournament with 26,000 bowlers taking part in the contests and competing for prizes worth $194,000.

The 1940 tournament scheduled to take place next March has a registered entry of 5,100 teams, this total expected to increase to 5,500 teams, whose members will compete for prizes worth $2,500,000. Teams from Canada, United States, South America and Hawaii will play.

These figures show the popularity of bowling. In no other sport is there so many persons taking part. This puts bowling as the foremost sport in the world.

The Victoria Bowling Association members discussed business of the organization and ways of arousing interest in the game among the general public.

Members present totaled over 70. Refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in community singing.

Terry Is After One Good Hurler

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP)—If Santa Claus has any special presents for Bill Terry, he hopes it will be a good winning pitcher.

Arriving here for a brief inspection of spring training quarters, the New York Giants' manager was outspoken about what he would like the whiskered gent to leave in his stocking.

"I just want another good pitcher, and I don't care if he's a righthander or a lefhander as long as he wins," Terry confided.

He still has faith in Pitcher Carl Hubbell, once voted the National League's most valuable player.

"When Hub's got half his stuff he can still win," Terry said. "When we closed last year he said his arm felt fine and that he wished the season was only starting."

Although the world champion New York Yankees whipped the Giants in 1936 and 1937 as they started their four-year domination of major league baseball, Terry definitely is not one of those who feel the American League club should be broken up for the good of the game.

"Break them up," he exclaimed. "I should say not. It's a pleasure to watch that outfit play."

MONTREAL'S NEW GOALIE—Replacing the great Wilf Cude, who a few seasons back was rated just about the best in the National Hockey League, Claude Bourque is handling goalkeeping duties for the Canadiens this season.

Hunting

Missing---Ducks

Lower Island sportsmen are looking about for a 1939 edition of that famous personage, Sherlock Holmes.

One is urgently needed to solve the mystery of the missing ducks.

It's quite a problem to the boys whose particular fancy is roast duck. They just can not understand it. Two weeks ago there were plenty of good, healthy fowl around. At Cowichan Bay there were seen as thick as clouds. But when the gun-toters, hundreds of them, journeyed to their favorite spots seeking their first bags of miratory birds over the week-end, the duck flocks had simply done a fadeout.

Shooting was at its worst for opening days in many seasons. The disgusted army of local hunters who trudged back over the main roads that led to all popular lower island shooting grounds after one and two-day trips had bags that were just about as flat as when they started out. Few, if any, got their limits of birds.

The total bags for the two days wouldn't have averaged two birds a hunter, sportsmen estimate. And that's a poor average.

Some hundreds put the disappearance of the ducks down to the fact the season was opening too late. Others offered the opinion the birds had flown north on the island where floods have made good inland pools for them.

The better-class ducks, like widgeon, mallard and teal were as scarce as flies in the winter time. Salt-water ducks were plentiful as usual. Few hunters seek this class of fowl.

BIG CROWD AT BAY

The opening day crowd at Cowichan Bay Saturday morning was as immense as ever. Some camped out on the flats Friday night, but the main horde came the next morning and by starting time there were hundreds of shooters concealed behind stumps, piles, bushes and man-made blinds waiting for the birds to fly overhead.

But throughout the day winged-targets were few. Most of the birds that passed above the army were golden eyes and they were well out of range. The disgruntled sportsmen, nevertheless, poured plenty of birdshot skyward in a vain hope of bagging one. Those who were present say there were as many as 20 hunters blasting double loads of shot into the air at a single bird at times as it sped down the flats.

Poor Saturday shooting resulted in a great decrease in Sunday's Cowichan shooting army.

At Chemainus flats hunters did not have much better luck. From there, too, choice members of the duck flocks had gone.

Nanaimo River flats was reported to have produced some good bags.

Some hunters tried Sooke Harbor over the week-end and brought down plenty of salt-water fowl. A party comprised of Aubrey Hughes, Roy Tebo and W. Stevens got their limits on Saturday. The combined bags were composed of one Canada goose, bluebills, black ducks, golden eyes, butterballs and a few widgeon. Dennis Gaunt brought down 10 ducks at Quamichan Lake. Jim Girdwood was one of the most successful Cowichan shooters, getting 10. Roger Monteith and Jack Grey got 10 between them.

Senior Ruggers To Open Season

Senior ruggers will swing into action on Saturday at Macdonald Park in the Barnard Cup race with Manager Bob McInnes' city championship J.B.A.A. crew tackling the Army, it was decided at last night's meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union.

The seniors will meet in the main battle on a two-game program, Wally Stipe's J.B.A.A. intermediates meeting Mickey Murray's Oak Bay fifteen in the other game. Both games start at 2.30. Wanderers won and lost in their two league battles with Victoria College. Stipe's proteges will be making their first start.

The departure of the P.P.C.L.I. took away eight good men in the Army line-up, but Garrison sports director, Lieut. Don Cunnington, reported at the meeting the squad had been rebuilt and was ready for action.

McInnes will trot out a powerful unit to oppose the soldiers in the championship series opener. At the start of the war the Bays lost some star material. These holes have been filled in with younger material. It is expected Jack Ferguson, former Bay fullback, who saw action with Calgary Bronks this season, will be out for his old club Saturday.

The union decided to have clubs in the senior and intermediate leagues play each other twice in each half of the schedule. Dates for seven fixtures were announced as follows:

SENIOR LEAGUE

November 25—J.B.A.A. vs. Army.

December 9—Oak Bay Wanderers vs. J.B.A.A.

December 16—Army vs. Oak Bay Wanderers.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

November 25—Oak Bay Wanderers vs. J.B.A.A.

December 2—Victoria College vs. J.B.A.A.

December 16—Oak Bay Wanderers vs. J.B.A.A.

December 26—Victoria College vs. J.B.A.A.

Schriner Has String Broken

TORONTO (CP)—When the management of Toronto Maple Leafs decided not to use Dave (Sweeney) Schriner in a National Hockey League game at Detroit Sunday night it unknowingly disrupted the fleet forward's record of continuous service.

Schriner said yesterday it was the first game he missed since jumping to professional ranks in 1933-34 when he moved from Calgary amateur ranks to Syracuse, only season he spent in the minor pro leagues.

The Syracuse stay was followed by five seasons with New York Americans, during which he led the league in scoring two seasons. Leafs bought him from the Americans this year.

It was decided to rest Schriner for a game following a tilt against Detroit here Saturday, since a large surplus of players gave the Leafs a chance to inject fresh players into the Sunday Detroit match.

Sweeney says he had no hopes of setting an "iron-man" record. His game against Detroit here Saturday night was his 254th in a row in the N.H.L., well behind the mark of of more than 500 set by Murray Murdoch with New York Rangers.

Hopes High After Win Saturday

George Deacon will have the Victoria Revellers out for two workouts, tomorrow evening and Thursday, prior to the final game in the Lipton Cup Canadian football series on Saturday at Varsity Stadium, Vancouver, with University of British Columbia Thunderbirds.

"Our win last Saurday was all we needed," Coach Deacon said when asked his opinion on the chances of victory for the local gridders. "We're rolling now and I'm sure the boys will be in there fighting all the way."

It was Deacon's opinion that Victoria's type of playing is the only one in the "Big Four" league that can put undefeated Varsity on the spot.

"Whether we have had enough experience or not to take the Thunderbirds is a question only Saturday will answer," he said.

Each player on the Revellers' squad was given a particular man to take care of, whereas Knights of Columbus' defensive play was looser. North Shore Lions played similar to the Kaycees although the third-place Vancouver team was rated by Deacon as being a better team than the second-place Knights.

Deacon will take the same team to Vancouver as he played the Kaycees last Saturday, providing all goes well in the practices tomorrow and Thursday.

The team will be:

First string — Bus Anderson, centre; Acland and Wright, insides; Jenkins and MacDonald, middles; Rowe and Thompson, ends; Groff Murdoch, quarterback; Garrison, flying wing; McKeachie, left half; Barber, right half.

Will Ask Congress To Discuss Boxing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representative Kennedy (Democrat, Maryland) said Monday he would introduce a bill at the next session of congress to create a federal agency to regulate professional boxing.

Asserting that the fight game seemed to be in "a pretty bad condition" Kennedy said championship matches apparently are in the control of "one man in New York" and that the outcome of some matches is "known in advance."

He said he had learned that one heavyweight champion had contributed 5 per cent of his earnings to another in the same class because the second man had "made it possible for him to get into the championship circles."

Max "Enthusiastic"

BRUSSELS, Belgium—Burgomaster Adolphe Max of Brussels, who attained prominence in the defence of his city in the First Great War, has sent a telegram to Sir Frank Bowater, Lord Mayor of London, expressing "enthusiastic comradeship" with the people of the British capital.

Longfellow Watched "Village Blacksmith"

In Cambridge, Mass., not far from the home of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, was a large chestnut tree. When the poet went for a walk, he often passed the tree and sometimes stopped to watch a blacksmith whose shop was partly covered by the tree's branches.

Longfellow with his daughter Edith, "with the Golden Hair."

By-and-by Longfellow wrote a poem about the tree and the blacksmith. It has been read by millions of children in school, and has been learned by heart by many of them.

"The Village Blacksmith" starts with the words "Under a spreading chestnut tree the village smithy stands." It is a short poem, with only eight stanzas and 48 lines, but there is a swing to it which has made it popular. In one of the stanzas we read:

"And children coming home from school
Look in at the open door:
They love to see the flaming forge,
And hear the bellows roar,
And catch the burning sparks that fly
Like chaff from a threshing floor."

Another of Longfellow's poems sprang from a place even closer to him—from his own home, which contained three little daughters. He called it "The Children's Hour." It is told in a charming way, and runs, in part, like this:

"I hear in the chamber above me
The patter of little feet,
The sound of a door that is opened,
And voices soft and sweet.

"From my study I see in the lamplight,
Descending the broad hall stair,
Grave Alice and laughing Allegra,
And Edith with golden hair.

"A whisper and then a silence:
Yet I know by their merry eyes
They are plotting and planning together
To take me by surprise."

Among the longer poems of Longfellow is one called "The Song of Hiawatha." It was written to put into the form of poetry a number of Indian legends.

"The Song of Hiawatha" contains more than 4,000 lines. It was based largely on notes about Indian life made by a man named Schoolcraft, who had visited a number of tribes in their own villages. Longfellow, however, seems to have obtained part of the material from an Ojibway chief who came to Cambridge and talked with the poet in his home.

HOROSCOPE

Wednesday, November 22

Today is favorable for persons who wield power. Neptune is in a place of evil portent, denoting misrepresentations, deceit and treachery. The British navy and air service may have temporary difficulties. The evening should be fairly lucky.

Under this configuration members of the family may develop cross-purposes. Husbands and fathers are likely to be dictatorial and will preach thrift until the younger members of the family feel the temptation to revolt against parental authority. Persons of all ages will be wise to recognize that times have changed.

Good news affecting commerce is forecast. Raw materials and manufactured products will be in great demand. There will be increased trade between the United States and South America. A food shortage in China will spur relief projects. Food substitutes will gain acceptance.

Big business and the government will begin to work harmoniously together, it is prognosticated. Money problems will assume a prominent place in national affairs as financial drains become serious. The Minister of Finance is to prove himself resourceful and diplomatic in averting a crisis.

Australia will provide agricultural products in large quantities for distant consumers but will have a serious railway accident.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of steady gains. New friends and new associations will contribute pleasant experiences to young and old.

Children born on this day will be positive in nature and broad in sympathies. These subjects of Sagittarius are brilliant and successful, but likely to go to extremes.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—When I began stepping out with the boys the older girls told me that unless I would pet and kiss and let the boys maul me that I would have no dates. They said that the boys would call me a flat tire and leave me alone. But I didn't take their advice. I stuck to the principles that my mother and the good sisters in the parochial school in which I was educated taught me. I not only have had plenty of attention from boys, but I am engaged to be married to the finest chap in the world, who would never have asked me to marry him if I had been like a lot of modern girls. So I think that girls don't have to be fast and easy to be popular. What do you think?

HAPPY.

Answer: I agree with you. Deep down in every man's soul, no matter how degraded he is, there is a reverence for purity and goodness in woman. Even the most frivolous playboy or the most sordid materialist cherishes an ideal of a woman who holds her virtue above her life, who has principles that are proof against all temptation and who keeps herself white and spotless. And when he finds a girl like this, who will not sell herself for a few good times, he respects her from the bottom of his heart.

Many girls say that the reason they are not popular with boys is because they will not pay for a 25-cent movie with $5 worth of petting, but this is generally just an alibi to save their faces. The reason they do not have dates is not because they are good, but because they lack in personality or in the knowledge of how to make a hit with men.

Perhaps they are not good-looking. Perhaps they do not know how to dress or comb their hair. Perhaps it is because they do not know how to dance or to play games and are wet blankets on every party. Perhaps it is because they have no conversation and are dull and boresome companions. But it isn't because they are modest and self-respecting.

DOROTHY DIX.

Cyclist Dies, Autoist Sought

Saanich Police today enlisted the aid of other forces of Greater Victoria in search for the motorist who fatally injured Ernest A. Brae, 1436 Camosun Street, 63-year-old cyclist, on North Quadra Street Sunday night.

Mr. Brae never regained consciousness and died from his injuries in St. Joseph's Hospital last night. Death was due to a fractured skull and cerebral lacerations.

The stolen car implicated in the accident was traced by City Police yesterday, but so far the identity of the driver is unknown. The car is owned by Sam George, Chinese, 1910 Blanshard Street, who reported it missing since Sunday night at 8.

Several fingerprints found on the car have been lifted by fingerprint experts and are being compared with those on file to learn if there is any similarity.

Sergeant Eric Elwell of the Saanich Police issued another appeal today asking any person seeing the accident or having any knowledge of it to get in touch with the Saanich Police immediately.

An inquest will be held Thursday morning.

Mr. Brae was born in Sheffield, Yorkshire, England, 63 years ago and had been in Canada for 50 years, residing in Victoria for the last eight years. He was an accountant by profession and leaves one brother, F. D. Brae, 1607 Belmont Avenue, and one sister, Mrs. G. G. Bushby, San Fernando, Chile.

Funeral services will be held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel on Thursday afternoon at 2. Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns will officiate and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Evangelist Tells Of Liner Sinking

The liner Athenia was sunk by a submarine's torpedo and the underwater craft rose to the surface and shelled the lifeboats as the survivors left the sinking ship, Charles O. Bowen, Vancouver evangelist, told a capacity audience in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last evening.

Mr. Bowen was a passenger on the Athenia when she was attacked and sunk on the first day of the war. He said that he saw the submarine from 500 to 600 yards away from the liner after she had been hit and later saw the attacker fire on the lifeboats.

Mr. Bowen gave details of the hardships and grief suffered by those on board the ship.

Earl C. Gray Fined On Liquor Charge

Earl C. Gray was fined $50 in City Police Court this morning on a charge of permitting persons to have liquor in the Castle Cafe, Niagara Street.

In passing judgment Magistrate Henry Hall said: "If the waitress and defendent did not know there liquor there—it was only because they deliberately closed their eyes and took care that they did not see it."

The case of Charles Richardson, charged with having liquor in a restaurant as a result of the same raid, was adjourned until Friday morning at the request of C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor.

Austin to Run In Saanich Poll

Councillor George A. Austin, present incumbent for Ward Four on the Saanich council, announced today he would be a candidate for re-election at the municipal poll December 1.

Councillor Austin has been a member of the council for three years. During that time he has been a member of the finance committee and chairman of the public works and health committees.

He was the only incumbent who had announced he would retire and his re-entry is a probable indication all ward seats will be contested by present representatives.

SOLDIERS SINGING NAPIER'S SONGS

Request from officers of the flying corps in England to rush more copies of songs written by Colonel R. Ross Napier of Victoria indicate that two of his recently-published numbers "I've Seen Marie" and "He Kissed the Sergeant-Major on Parade" promise to become among the outstanding songs of the war.

The notice from England says "I've Seen Marie" became an instant hit. While the words were written for men of the old army revisiting France the humor of them has appealed equally to new soldiers on their way to France and the easily-learned melody and swinging chorus have made it a great favorite:

"It is going over as big as 'O, It's a Lovely War,' In a couple of months the whole of the army in England and France will be singing it," the writer advised. "The chorus is a great favorite. The men are eager to get the words."

The chorus which also made a great hit on the Vimy Pilgrimage runs.

"I've seen Marie, boys. I've seen Marie.
She's fair and she's fat and she forty now.
And dangles the ninth on her knee.
Gee, how I laughed when I looked at her.
And gosh, how she laughed at me.
I'll go back to my wife and be happy for life
Now that I've seen Marie.

Colonel Napier's songs have been published by Gordon V. Thompson Ltd. of Toronto.

Government Levy On Horned Cattle

On the cattle market a cow with horns is worth $1 less than a cow without horns, because dealers say horned cattle damage each other and therefore are not so valuable.

But the government from now on will not recognize this difference in British Columbia and will collect from buyers of horned cattle $1 for each animal. The money will go to a fund for the improvement of livestock.

The levy was contained in a bill introduced in the Legislature by Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, who explained that similar charges were made in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Small Boats In Trouble, Man Lost

D. M. Brodehl, Rumanian-born skipper of the 26-foot speedboat Dickie B., which carries mail between Victoria and Port Angeles, had a narrow escape this morning. He brought his boat into port badly disabled, after striking a log in the Straits, four miles out.

"Another 10 or 15 minutes and I would have sunk," he said as he hauled his craft up on the ways at Armstrong Brothers' for repairs.

"I didn't feel anything at the bow, but the stern got the blow and then I felt the bow jump out of the water about 10 feet," he said. "I couldn't think for a minute what happened to me."

The little craft was doing about 22 knots at the time and suffered considerable damage to her stern.

She was carrying 12 bags of mail for Victoria, but Brodehl said he made sure they were kept dry.

LOST AT ZEBALLOS

Reports reaching Victoria today indicate the 36-foot Nootka mission boat, Gypsy Girl, developed engine trouble on the west coast of Vancouver Island last Thursday and drifted ashore two miles off Zeballos.

One of the occupants of the boat waded ashore and summoned a fishboat which removed the others.

Those reported aboard the Gypsy Girl were: Mrs. Helen Lorbeer and daughter Margaret, of Victoria; Mrs. Mary Stevenson, Zeballos, and Skipper Harold Horel of Salt Spring Island. The name of the other passenger is not known.

MAN MISSING

British Columbia Police are conducting a search on the east coast of Vancouver Island for Russell McKendrick of Vancouver, who has not been heard from since November 5 when he left Englewood in his 30-foot camp tender for Port Mellon, north of Powell River.

A report reaching Alert Bay was that William Hayes of Hoskyn Inlet, near Stuart Island had found a partly submerged 30-foot launch at the mouth of Hoskyn Inlet on November 17.

Constable M. N. McAlpine of Campbell River, has been sent to the scene to investigate. Police headquarters say, however, the submerged launch does not fit that of the one in which McKendrick left Englewood.

KIWANIS HEAR OF PIONEER DAYS

"Early Days in Victoria" was the subject of an address given by W. A. Luney to members of the Kiwanis Club at a luncheon held in the Empress Hotel today.

Mr. Luney, who arrived in Victoria on September 21, 1885, and has lived here ever since, spoke of the days when the city was in its infancy.

The Fairfield district as we now know it, was farm lands and ranches, and there were about half a dozen houses in the area.

In the city itself there were a few buildings, only two or three of which are now standing.

Industries in Victoria were many. Tanning, shoemaking, lime kiln work and flour mills were major concerns in the city during the pioneer days.

Sheep farming, at which Mr. Luney first worked, and cattle raising were widely practiced in rural districts.

The police force employed about six men and the fire department was a voluntary organization.

No coin under 10 cents was used.

Entertainment was rare and what little there was did not appeal to most people. Young people used to meet the boat or go for boat rides up the Gorge.

The speaker was thanked on behalf of the members by Austin Curtis, chairman.

Darrell Spence, the new president, announced that Ralph Matthews had been appointed by the directors as honorary secretary for the new season.

A. W. Arnup, president, gave an address on "The Pathos of Dickens."

Straw Votes Banned in B.C.

Straw votes on provincial election contests in British Columbia will be banned, the special Elections Act committee of the Legislature decided this morning.

No person, corporation or organization will be permitted to take such a vote between the time an election writ is issued and the time polling is over.

Partly responsible for this ban was a straw vote taken by a Victoria hardware store during the last provincial contest. Customers were invited to cast ballots while the campaign was in progress and results were posted daily. P. Walker, deputy provincial secretary, said this undoubtedly influenced the official vote in some respects.

The committee was deeply concerned today about the practice of giving concerts and dances in connection with political meetings. The present act prevents giving entertainment to influence voting. At many political gatherings, it was pointed out, dances or concerts are held afterwards.

Mr. Walker explained, however, that entertainment in the act meant, in the old English sense, the giving of free food and drink to man or beast. But to remove any ambiguity the committee decided to strike the word from the act.

INTO THE DISCARD

The old English term of "political hustings" today followed the proclamation saying "Oyez, oyez" into the discard as far as official phraseology is concerned. In the new act it will be called the place of nomination.

The hustings was the place, developed from Anglo-Saxon times, where candidates were nominated and then stated their views to the populace.

A queer situation that developed this morning was that, legally, under the Elections Act, political parties have no official standing, although they are recognized in other provincial laws. A suggestion was made that to forestall cranks, straw men and other independents from cluttering up the ballot papers when they have no chance of election, all recognized parties should be registered and only candidates backed by a party be accepted. This, however, was rejected as being against democratic principles.

The committee adopted a new form of ballot paper for voting in the provincial elections. It has the names printed in white on a solid black background. A circle of white is provided in which the cross is placed opposite the voter's choice.

On the proposal to cancel voters' lists before each general election a compromise was reached as a solution to a deadlock on the issue that developed the other day. It was decided that lists will be canceled each time in Victoria, Oak Bay, Vancouver, Burrard, and New Westminster. In other ridings cancellation will be optional, as it has always been.

The second annual meeting of the Toronto Conservatory Club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. George Phillips, 1416 St. David Street, with 14 members present. The annual report and financial statement were read, the latter showing a bank balance of $23. It was suggested that the club contribute annually to the Marion Ferguson Foundation, a scholarship given by the Toronto Conservatory.

The election of officers for the year 1940 resulted as follows: President, Mrs. George Phillips, re-elected; vice-president, Miss Gwen Harper; secretary, Miss Beatrice Griffin; treasurer, Mrs. Marion MacGovern; secretary assistant, Miss Florence Phillimore; program convener, Miss Margaret Pringle; historian, Mrs. T. W. A. Gray.

Mrs. Wilfrid Ord later entertained the meeting with three readings, including an excerpt from "The Merchant of Venice," "Abou Ben Abed" (Lee Hunt), and "The Enchanted Shirt" (Ian Hay); Mrs. Harry Johns sang two Bach numbers, "Of Flowers the Fairest," and "My Heart Ever Faithful." Miss Florence Phillimore gave piano solos, "Thou Art Repose" (Schubert-Liszt) and "The Spinner" (Raft).

Later refreshments were served by the hostess.

Cash receipts of the city lands department show an increase of $43,669 in collections for this year to date, as compared with the same period last year, according to a statement issued this morning by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the land committee.

Gross receipts of the department from all sources have risen to a new high this year at $120,543. Last year they were $76,874.

There have been 131 sales and one exchange this year in which the value of properly involved was $90,770. Last year there were only 81 sales and 7 exchanges in which the value of the property sold was $32,358.

U.S. INSISTS ON NO DELAYS TO TRADE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State, said today the United States had advised Great Britain it was not to be understood as endorsing any principle of interference with its neutral trade.

Mr. Welles made the statement shortly after the British embassy had disclosed that effective December 1, the British would start a presailing system of investigating American exports to 10 European neutral nations.

Apparently the notice to Britain that the United States was reserving its full rights under international law to genuinely neutral trade was given when the export checking plan was discussed, but Welles did not make clear in what way it applied, or what eventualities it might cover.

It was learned the British embassy and the state department had discussed the proposed new export checking system some days ago.

Canadian Red Cross Head in England

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. Fred W. Routley, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, has come to England to direct the establishment of the society's overseas organization in advance of the arrival of the first Canadian troops.

Following an executive meeting of the Red Cross, Norman Sommerville, national chairman, announced Dr. Routley had left "sometime last week."

Dr. Routley is a graduate of the University of Toronto. As an expert on welfare medicine, Dr. Routley is widely recognized, and in 1926 was chosen to head for three months the world public health research of the League of Red Cross Societies, with offices in Paris.

Says Accused Attacked Woman

VANCOUVER (CP) — Adolph Olkowski, a logger from Elk River, B.C., today told Police Magistrate H. S. Wood of seeing Andrew Pedderson attack Mrs. Catherine Ethel Reid, 30, who died here on October 25 of knife wounds.

"All of a sudden he started to hit Mrs. Reid with a knife," Olkowski said in testifying at the preliminary hearing of Pedderson, charged with murdering Mrs. Reid.

Olkoski said previous to the attack on Mrs. Reid he and Pedderson had been present at a "drinking party" at the woman's home.

Later Pedderson returned to the house with a rifle, wrapped in paper, which he said was a fishing rod, Olkowski said.

When Mrs. Reid questioned him on why he had the rifle, Pedderson struck her, said the witness. The woman then called police and Pedderson was taken away.

By Day and Night British Speed Hunt for Mines

By JEAN PIERRE SIGNY
Havas Staff Writer

ABOARD A FRENCH MINESWEEPER IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL (CP)—The devices by which minesweepers root death-dealing explosives from their lurking places under the ocean surface were revealed to this correspondent today.

Vessels probing the waters no longer are forced to travel in pairs, linked by a heavy cable. Minesweeping has been modernized so that one boat with a 24-man crew can do what used to require two. All in all, it is much like deep-sea fishing—but a much more dangerous "sport."

As the first step two wooden, steel-lined fins are released from the stern, one falling to the starboard and the other to the port side of the boat, these, acting as outriggers, hold the drag in proper position. When the fins have submerged, they are followed by two torpedo-shaped floats weighing more than 600 pounds, which bob to the surface 150 or 200 yards apart. The area between them is the drag's field of action.

When the drag catches a mine, the float bobs as if a fish had struck the line. The mine's anchorage slides along the cable to a pair of strong pincers, which cut it into two, sending the explosive portion to the surface, where it is then destroyed from a respectful distance.

By night the floats carry a light. The light disappears when the float is drawn under water and the man on watch knows he has a "bite." A searchlight then picks out the drifting mine. Often less than 20 minutes pass between the netting of a mine and its anihilation by a minesweeper of any type. Small vessels, perhaps converted trawlers or tugs, carry on the hunt day and night, neglecting their own security to eliminate the U-boat's "eggs" that may hatch at any moment into terrible destruction.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME
If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼-pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.
This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing becomes easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

AMERICANS GUARD FOREST WEALTH

R. G. McKee of the British Columbia Forest Service, last night addressed the Victoria section of the Canadian Society of Forest Engineers on the subject of his recent attendance at the Personnel Training School conducted by the United States Forest Service for those officers administering the national forests of Washington and Oregon. Mr. McKee attended this meeting to study U.S. methods of handling forestry problems.

The speaker remarked that representing British Columbia, where but 37 per cent of forest revenue is spent on forestry, he felt like a poor relation visiting a service which spends 10 times its forest revenue.

That the American nation thinks highly of its forest wealth, and is determined to perpetuate it, is evidenced, he said, in that the United States Forest Service in Washington and Oregon employs six times the staff of the British Columbia service to administer an area one-third as large, and provides remuneration to its professional foresters on a far higher scale than does this province.

Mr. McKeen emphasized the advantage possessed by British Columbia in that forest adinistration is under provincial control, as contrasted with the diversification of control in the United States under federal and state authority. It was said that the problem of forest management on private lands is handled on a co-operative basis, federal foresters and operators working together toward the development of better forest practice.

Mr. McKeen outlined the organization of the United States Forest Service, which operates as a bureau within the Federal Department of Agriculture, and pointed out that various states have their own forest services operating independently of federal authority. The speaker saw much in the American organization of practicable application in British Columbia, and suggested improvements in the provincial forest administration prompted by ideas gathered while on his visit.

Large Audience Applauds Ballet

A capacity audience at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night thrilled to the ballet and gave wholeheartedly of its approval to the excellent and beautifully-trained San Francisco Opera Ballet, which made its first appearance here last season.

The generous program lasted three hours and was full of color and beauty; the costuming was magnificent, the scenery smart and picturesque.

The classical form of the ballet (the layman's idea of a typical ballet) was artistically portrayed in "Chopinade," after Fokine's famous "Les Sylphides." To music by Chopin the corps, in filmy white ballet gowns on a moonlit stage, showed the sheer beauty of ballet form and movement.

Merle Williams distinguished herself in this and showed herself an artist of note with graceful gesture and lithesomeness of posture.

MUSIC BY STRAUSS

Johann Strauss music was used for the comic ballet "In Vienna," in two spectacular scenes. In this the corps de ballet showed its professional training and its love of the dance as with abandon its members danced to the lilting music of the great Viennese composer.

Janet Reed, dainty, diminutive titian-haired prima ballerina, made her first appearance in the Vienna ballet as the ballerina of the Vienna State Opera. Her toework was superb, her pirouetting so beautiful, so finished, that the house was frequently filled with applause. Her sustained arabesques showed such sureness and perfection that lovers of the dance were thrilled.

"Coppelia," Leo Delibes' great ballet of the old toymaker Coppelius and young Swanhilda and her lover Franz was a performance of the highest artistic calibre. Here Janet Reed took the leading role and showed herself an actress as well as a dancer. Elfin-like she danced, her feet fairly twinkling, with seemingly never an effort. Her miming was a joy.

Outstanding was Jacqueline Martin, tall, slight brunette, whose dancing ability vied with her charming, friendly personality. This girl, no doubt, will go a long way in her chosen profession.

It was unfortunate the ballet had not more support from the orchestra, which in spots was ragged. In the orchestra were 15 members of the Vancouver Symphony and four local musicians. Willem Van Den Berg, one of North America's finest musicians and associate conductor of the San Francisco Symphony, is to be praised for the way he handled the orchestra.

Brian Burdon-Murphy brought the ballet to Victoria and is to be thanked by all who so keenly enjoyed the performance.

Fantastic Musical On Atlas Screen

Presenting what is heralded as the most ideal combine of color, music, dancing, spectacle, pageantry, laughs and thrills, "The Wizard of Oz," filmization of the celebrated fantasy by L. Frank Baum, comes tomorrow to the Atlas Theatre as the most sensational musical treat to come out of the annals of Hollywood screen entertainment.

Six new and catchy songs embellish the story, among them "Over the Rainbow," "If I Only Had a Brain, the Nerve, a Heart," "The Merry Old Land of Oz," "Ding Dong, the Witch Is Dead" and "If I Were King of the Forest."

ANN SOTHERN IN DOMINION SHOW

"Maisie" is coming back—and this time with a husband. Ann Sothern, who scored a hit in the title role of "Maisie," returns to the screen in "Fast and Furious," opening today at the Dominion Theatre, in which she plays the loving but jealous wife of Franchot Tone. As Joel and Garda Sloan, screwball amateur detectives and bibliophiles, Tone and Miss Sothern go on a vacation and find themselves plunged into a bevy of bathing beauties and a double murder. And a third killing is prevented only by a sense of humor when Garda discovers a tape measure in the pocket of her beauty pageant judge-husband. A modern, streamlined mystery-comedy, "Fast and Furious" is highlighted with one of the most glittering parades of bathing beauties ever to be seen on the screen and is placed in the rich settings of a fashionable seaside resort.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Contrary to many writers who express themselves as dissatisfied with the Hollywood treatment of such of their works as are brought to the films, James Hilton, author of "Goodbye Mr. Chips," returned from a preview of the M-G-M filmization of his celebrated novel with the greatest of enthusiasm and respect for the photoplay version, starring Robert Donat and currently showing on the Oak Bay screen.

PLAZA THEATRE

Unexpected talent as a cartoonist was displayed by Wayne Morris, young Warner Bros. player, on location for "Submarine D-1" during his leisure hours, and he has been asked to submit several drawings made aboard naval craft for publication in a service magazine. Wayne is to be seen in "Submarine D-1" now at the Plaza Theatre.

No U-Boat Warning To Arlington Court

DUBLIN (CP)—Survivors of the 4,915-ton British freighter Arlington Court said today that a U-boat, firing two torpedoes in quick succession, sank their ship without warning late Thursday, 200 miles off the Irish coast.

Twenty-two crew members were landed at Cork by the Netherlands rescue ship Algenib. Nineteen of them were taken to hospitals. Eleven members of the crew were missing and an officer was dead.

Claude Boothby, second officer of the Arlington Court, said he was chatting with the radio operator Thursday afternoon when an explosion rocked the vessel. The crew had time to lower the lifeboats and get into them. Ten minutes after the first blast the U-boat, which remained throughout at periscope depth, sent a second torpedo into the Arlington Court. The ship sank 30 minutes later.

Boothby said the sea was heavy and he and his companions had to row all night to keep the lifeboat afloat. The chief engineer, H. Pearson, died of the cold on Sunday.

Former Manager of P.G.E. Drops Dead

VANCOUVER (CP) — Robert Wilson, manager of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway for several years, collapsed and died suddenly last night shortly after addressing a banquet given by the British Columbia Tourist Council.

Born in Greenock, Scotland, April 20, 1885, Mr. Wilson came to Canada 30 years ago and was connected with the P.G.E. from the time construction began on the railway in 1913. He held successively the positions of comptroller, assistant general manager and executive assistant or manager.

As executive assistant with full responsibility for accounting, financing and operating, Mr. Wilson effected great savings. In 1926, the year before his appointment, operating expenses of the line which runs from Squamish, at the head of Howe Sound, into the central interior, were approximately $740,000. Six years later they were reduced to $440,000.

In 1934 the development of gold mines in the districts served by the P.G.E. assisted Mr. Wilson in creating a surplus over operation costs.

A man of medium height, his chief hobbies were walking and music. For many years he played the pipe organ in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in North Vancouver and it was his daily habit to take a brisk three-mile walk each morning before going to his office.

He was the oldest employee in the P.G.E. and was affectionately known as "the old man" to the staff of the railway.

A few moments before his death he had made a brief, humorous address to the provincial tourist council, urging it to stimulate the tourist trade for the general betterment of business conditions in British Columbia.

LOCAL BOYS ON LOST SHIP SAFE

By transferring to another ship, Ss. Anselm at Lisbon, five boys who signed in Victoria aboard the Jugoslav freighter Carica Milica, destroyed by a mine explosion off the British Isles, consider themselves fortunate.

They were Ted Meredith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Meredith, 2378 Cranmore Road, Oak Bay; William Reith and John Uzzel of Duncan; F. Douglas Brown and Richard Armstrong, of Vancouver.

These boys worked their passage on the Carica Milica to become members of the Royal Air Force.

The Carica Milica, which carried a cargo of Vancouver Island lumber, put into Lisbon, Portugal, to await orders before passing through the submarine zone.

Last month, the five boys had the opportunity of boarding the Anselm, which unexpectedly put into Lisbon, and they went on to England aboard that vessel.

But for this fortunate experience they would probably have been aboard the Carica Milica when she was destroyed.

Lillooet To Be Used As Salvage Vessel

Preliminary to being commissioned as a salvage vessel by the Pacific Salvage Company, Ss. Lillooet was this morning towed from her berth in the Inner Harbor to the Victoria Machinery Depot Ltd. to be hauled out for hull cleaning, painting and general inspection.

For some months the Lillooet has been lying at the wharf of the Island Tug and Barge Company Ltd. undergoing alterations to fit her for salvage work. Her stern has been cut down and a powerful towing engine has been installed. New masts are to be stepped to carry lifting gear and lifeboats have been ordered and will shortly be delivered.

The Pacific Salvage Company has spent a large sum in equipping the Lillooet for salvage purposes. She will be used in conjunction with Ss. Salvage King, the most powerful salvage tug on the Pacific coast. The Lillooet is twin-engined and develops 1,000-horsepower which gives her a sea speed of about 10 knots.

She was built in 1908 by the B.C. Marine Railway Co. Ltd. at Esquimalt to the order of the Canadian government and up to the time of the commissioning of the new Ss. Wm. J. Stewart, was used in the hydrographic survey service on the B.C. coast.

Big Winter Travel to Coast Says Creelman

"We have every reason to believe that the volume of travel to the coast this winter will be considerable," said Robert Creelman, passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, Winnipeg, discussing the prospects of business arising from the campaign being conducted by Canadian railways to encourage winter travel.

Making a western inspection tour, Mr. Creelman is at the Empress Hotel today with George A. McNicholl, general passenger agent, Vancouver.

"In contacting our transportation offices throughout the west since the inauguration of special rates to encourage easterners to winter on the coast, I am convinced there will be a steady movement out west during the next few months, said Mr. Creelman.

Special rates quoted by the railways went into effect November 15 and will continue until February with return limit until the end of April.

Many prairie people will be among those who are expected to winter in Victoria and other coast points. They have had a good year and would prefer to spend their money in Canada, in the more temperate clime of the British Columbia coast, as the exchange is against them in the United States.

Apartment and rooming houses in Victoria, it is understood, are daily receiving inquiries from prospective winter visitors. Reservations are already being made at the city's hotels for space over the Christmas and New Year season.

During their stay in the city today, Messrs. Creelman and McNicholl discussed travel conditions with Charles A. Earle, the Canadian National district passenger agent, and inspected the company's offices and terminals here.

Mr. McNicholl has just returned from an inspection of the Prince Rupert and northern British Columbia territory and reports the business outlook satisfactory.

For many years Mr. McNicholl was the company's passenger representative at Prince Rupert and on his recent tour was warmly welcomed by the northerners.

He joined the Royal Canadian Navy in 1911 and served during the last war with the Canadian navy. He continued his naval career after the war, coming to his present rank in 1934.

Director of naval personnel is Commander C. R. H. Taylor, another Nova Scotian, born at Weymouth. He joined the Royal Naval College of Canada as a cadet in 1914 and for four years during the last war served in the Royal Navy. He was promoted to the rank of commander in 1934.

RECALLED TO SERVICE

Called into active service from the retired list is Commander D. W. Farmer, Royal Navy, who is director of merchantile movements at naval headquarters. He was born in India, the son of a civil servant and his whole active career was spent with the Royal Navy. On retirement in 1923 he came to Canada and only recently was called again to active service.

Commanding officer of the Atlantic coast and captain in charge of the naval establishment at Halifax is Capt. Howard E. Reid, who was born at Portage Duford, Quebec, in 1897 and who served with the Royal Navy during the last war. He has held various important posts since that war and on August 30 of this year was promoted to the rank of captain.

Commanding the British Columbia coast and in charge of the British Columbia naval establishment at Esquimalt is Capt. Victor Gabriel Brodeur, son of a late chief justice of Quebec. He joined the Canadian naval service as a cadet in 1909. During the last war he served in ships of the Royal Navy and continued his naval career with the Canadian navy after the war. He became a captain January 1, 1936.

Director of Naval Intelligence is Commander E. S. Brock of the Royal Navy. He was loaned to the Royal Canadian Navy in August, 1939, after a brilliant career with the British navy.

Tongue-lashing in Waterfront Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Harry Bridges gave the Chamber of Commerce a tongue lashing as opposing sides in the latest San Francisco waterfront tieup jockeyed for position and tied to woo public sentiment today.

Bridges also told Mayor Angelo J. Rossi "the ship owners are taking you for a ride."

The labor union leader's declarations left the score on statements about even—employer and business groups and the mayor have been lampooning Bridges—but the waterfront remained approximately 95 per cent tied up by the CIO ship clerks' strike.

Six hundred and fifty clerks walked out November 15 following a prolonged deadlock in negotiations for a new contract.

Bridges' statements, issued after his return last night from Southern California, was in answer to a challenge to his leadership by the Chamber of Commerce, the mayor, waterfront employers, and the associated farmers.

Search Abandoned

VANCOUVER (CP) — White Pass and Yukon route officials here today said search for one of their airplanes which crashed into Lake Labarge, north of Whitehorse, Y.T., on November 9 with its pilot and two passengers had been abandoned.

Parts of the wrecked machine have been found by searchers who combed the lake with motor launches, but no trace has been discovered of Pilot Jesse Rice and his passengers, Mike McKallion and D. H. Anderson.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Operators on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange took their cue from the price-trend at Chicago again today and held wheat futures prices here at slightly higher levels most of the session. Quotations closed ⅛ to ¼ higher, November and December at 70½, May 75¼ and July 76¾.

Trading remained dormant for long periods and only minor purchases by milling interests and seaboard houses prevented the session from registering a blank in actual deals. Foreign sales of Canadian wheat were difficult to confirm, with only odd cars being traced.

Cash wheat operations were slow although buyers continued to press for supplies. Difference of opinion on price spreads held actual transactions to a minimum.

Wheat—	Bid	Offer
May	75-2	75-2

CHICAGO (AP)—Duplicating the action of yesterday's market, wheat prices today advanced about a cent and then lost all of the gain. December contracts reached 89⅝, their best level since the end of 1937, but retreated in late profit-taking.

Reports of bad yields revealed by early threshing of wheat in northern sections of the Argentine belt attracted attention. Some late selling was associated with the downward trend of securities.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ⅜ higher than yesterday, December 88⅝ to 88¾, May 86⅛ to 86¼; corn unchanged to ¼ up, December 50¼, May 52½ to 52⅜; oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher.

Market Still a Mystery

NEW YORK (AP) — Selected stocks breasted mild selling currents in today's market but the list generally drifted downstream.

Analysts in the financial district apparently were unable to bring out any outstanding reason for the recently chilly speculative sentiment. Mystification still attached to the fact stock quotations have been hovering at about the same level at which they were this time last year, while business and industry have far outstripped 1938.

Fractional advances were erased or replaced by small minus signs in many instances but declines predominated at the close.

Transfers were around 600,000 shares.

Chrysler held up fairly well despite the deadlock in the companys' labor negotiations. There were hopes expressed that a settlement was near.

Lacking recovery stamina were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, American Can, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, U.S. Gypsum and Standard Oil of N.J.

Canadian Bank of Commerce Profits

The financial statement issued by the Canadian Bank of Commerce on October 31 reveals that its deposits are the highest in the history of the bank. Non-interest-bearing deposits at $211,280,325 rose by $28,561,547, an increase of 15½ per cent. Interest-bearing deposits rose by $7,786,373 and amounted to $374,553,176. Deposits of the Dominion government stand at $50,990,218, and those of provincial governments at $13,876,053. Deposits of banks in the United Kingdom and in foreign countries at $12,008,654 show a reduction of $1,035,000.

After deducting $988,422 for Dominion and provincial government taxes and after making appropriations for all bad and doubtful debts, the net profits were $2,938,105. Dividends amounting to $2,400,000 were paid, and after transferring to pension fund $256,386 and writing $250,000 off bank premises, a balance of $782,802 was carried forward into next year.

Total assets rose by $80,417,453 to $745,650,745, an increase of 12 per cent. Total quick assets amounted to $451,696,229, an increase of $42,657,303. These represent 65.06 per cent of total liabilities to the public. Cash and cash items rose by $8,770,561 to $125,829,045, an increase of 7½ per cent, and representing 18.12 per cent of total liabilities to the public. Notes of the Bank of Canada held amounted to $11,813,273 and deposits with that bank stood at $54,702,237.

The bank's security portfolio shows short-term government securities up by $37,982,087 to $118,905,181. Longer term government securities, maturing in two years or more, at $116,194,908 showed only a fractional increase, while a slight decline is shown in holdings of Canadian municipal issues, which amounted to $9,550,150. Public securities other than Canadian rose by $3,309,831 to $31,081,680 and all other securities by $1,105,910 to $26,106,832. Call loans declined both in Canada and elsewhere, the former falling by $2,795,769 to $12,685,598 and the latter by $5,403,701 to $10,435,834, in both cases owing to a less active condition of the stock markets.

An increase of over 23 per cent is shown in current loans and discounts. Those in Canada rose from $163,508,458 to $201,775,852, while loans abroad rose from $17,913,123 to $22,591,280. Loans to provinces and municipalities are both moderately lower, the former standing at $8,206,041 and the latter at $20,480,045.
